PREFACE

TO THE CLASS:

This Fifth Report has been produced under the Secretary's supervision but without the direct handling and checking of all matters of detail as was the case in the volume preceding. The high pressure of current events has made it impossible to do everything personally in this instance and to treat this work as a labor of love, as should be the case in compiling these personal records. Mr. Sidney Curtis, '05, formerly business manager of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin, has assisted the Secretary, and the Plimpton Press of Norwood has co-operated helpfully on its end of the work.

Since the date of our Quindecennial the Secretary has been notified of the death of eighteen men, eleven of whom were holders of degrees. This makes a total of eighty-two men in our necrology list to date. Of these, thirty-six held the degree of A.B.; two, that of S.B.; the remaining forty-four having been affiliated members.

Several men have wandered beyond the Secretary's ken and have become mere names on our roster. These prodigals are ever welcome, none the less, and may always expect an outstretched hand upon their return.

The omission or postponement of our Vicennial celebration will come as a disappointment to many, but, like other disappointments in this year 1917, it is to be accepted philosophically and in the hope that when we again come together we shall meet with a more profound sense of sympathy and comradeship, as a result of the trials through which all of our generation now seem destined to pass.

Faithfully,

WILLIAM L. GARRISON, JR.,

Secretary.

SINCE the last reunion I have continued the practise of law, with the usual excitement. For the last three years I have been a trustee of the Thomas Crane Public Library, and at present am chairman. I have also been a member of the City Planning Board for the last two years.

We beat Penn 2-0 in Franklin Field, one of the boys who had studied here holding them to one hit in nine innings. Still an old "Bach," but beginning to wish I were not.

AFTER leaving College, Anderson was in the accounting department of the Great Northern Railway. Five years ago he was living at Amherst, Mass., recuperating from a severe attack of pneumonia. He wrote (sitting up in bed) from Pittsfield, Mass., and sent his best wishes to his classmates for the Reunion.

Mr. George Harris wrote in February, 1917: "He is at Locarno, Switzerland, where he has been the last three years. He is a semi-invalid, but is improving. I shall send him the circular, but it is doubtful whether he gets it and, at any rate, it will be a long time before he can return it, communication is so slow. His permanent address is the above 35 West 81st Street, New York City, that is, in my care."

Hamlet Anderson writes the Secretary from Locarno, Switzerland, March 17, to say that he has settled down there on the shores of Lake Maggiore for the present, after having sojourned in England, France, and Italy. He says: "While the war is near on all sides we have been spared its horrors, although we now have the food rations and the new U-boat menace. We are fortified by the fact that the very efficient Swiss army is always on the jump, and at hand to resist any onslaught, and it would prove a mighty tough customer for anyone attempting to assail this mountainous stronghold."

YALE still endures me. Perhaps that is the best epitome of the last five and rather uneventful years. In 1912 a third son (Philip Holt) was born, so that I now have three boys whom

I must try to persuade to go to Harvard although brought up in a Yale atmosphere. A month or two ago I was advanced to a full professorship at Yale, involving the Directorship of the Psychological Laboratory. During this half-year I am taking charge of the late Professor Münsterberg's Graduate Seminary. This gives me the great boon of being able to see old Harvard once each week.

Extra curricularly I am president of the Connecticut Junior Republic, at Litchfield — an institution for wayward boys; and President of the Brick Row Print and Book Shop (which the students dub the "Gold Brick Shop") of New Haven.

(permanent) 27 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; (home) 15 Fort Washington Ave., New York, N. Y.

I HAVE managed to keep pretty busy at an increasingly large variety of things since the last report. I was kept away from the last reunion because my work as political correspondent of the New York Evening Post necessitated my being at Baltimore to write the story of the Democratic National Convention that nominated Woodrow Wilson for the first time. That fall I left active newspaper work to become political secretary to Oscar S. Straus, Progressive candidate for governor of New York. After election I became secretary of the Citizens Committee for Non-Partisan Public Service Regulation and directed a publicity and organization campaign which lasted several months. In February, 1913, I became secretary of the Municipal Government Association, an organization with a constructive programme of home rule for cities. I am still secretary of that organization and have seen a considerable part of its programme enacted into law.

Most of my time since 1912 has been devoted to work of a civic, political, or legislative character. In the fall of 1914 I was secretary of the New York City Constitutional Convention Committee which sought to bring about the nomination and election of fit delegates to the Constitutional Convention. During the mid-winter and spring of 1915 I was a member of several special committees which were working on problems of constitutional reform, including those of the State Conference of Mayors, the New York Young Republican Club, and the Citizens Union. In May I became secretary of the Committee on Governor and State Officers in the Constitutional Convention, which drafted the short ballot and state reorganization amendments to the constitution. After the convention adjourned I served as publicity secretary of the Committee for the Adoption of the Constitution until after the proposed constitution was defeated. Since the beginning of 1916 I have been legislative secretary of the City Club of New York. I have been a director and a member of the executive committee of the Honest Ballot Association for several years. I am a member of the executive and legislative committees of the Citizens Union, the Legislative Committee of the City Club, a director of the Voters Legislative Association, one of the founders and chairman of the legislative committee of the County Government Association, and a member of the executive board of the National Short Ballot Organization.

I have continued active in politics, have been a member of the executive committee of the Young Republican Club a greater part of the time since its organization in 1911, was for several years chairman of its committee on state affairs, and was chairman of a special committee on state leadership which started the successful campaign which resulted in the retirement of William Barnes from the Republican state chairmanship. I have been a member of the Republican County Committee of New York for several years and was a delegate to the Republican State Conferences of 1913 and 1914. Among other things I was actively interested in the reform of legislative procedure, and a resolution introduced by me in the State Conference of 1913, and unanimously adopted, formed the basis of radical reforms put into operation in the legislature in the following year. I was one of the organizers of the Hughes Alliance in June, 1916, serving on the executive committees of both the New York State and the National Hughes Alliance, and was director of publicity of the National Hughes Alliance during the entire presidential campaign. I have written articles on municipal government, have lectured and delivered addresses on municipal home rule before the Academy of Political Science, the State Conference of Mayors, and chambers of commerce and high schools, and have acted as adviser to local charter drafting commissions.

I have written one book, "The Emancipation of the American City," just published by Duffield and Company. I am a member of the National Municipal League, the American Historical Association and of the City and Harvard Clubs of New York and the University Club of Albany.

† William Harkness Arnold

Born at Pawtucket, R. I., Aug. 6, 1860.

Year in College: 1893-94.

Married: Jeannie Oliver Fish, Jan. 18, 1888, Pawtucket, R. I.

Died July 21, 1913, Providence, R. I.

WILLIAM HARKNESS ARNOLD, son of David Anthony and Eliza Ann Francis (Carpenter) Arnold, was born at Pawtucket, R. I., August 6, 1860, and died in his fifty-fourth year at Providence, R. I., after a comparatively brief illness. After completing his preparatory education at the English and Classical School, Providence, he went abroad. He studied a year on the organ in Berlin with Haupt, and on the piano with Loesch-horn. In Paris he studied singing with Delle Sedie, and the piano with Mlle. Dziekonska, and continued his studies for the voice in London with Signor Novara and Mr. Thorp. For nearly thirty years he was organist and choir master at St. Stephen's Church in Providence; and in his later career as a teacher and organist he frequently visited Europe for study and recreation. He was a Fellow of the Church Choir Guild in London; lectured frequently on musical subjects; and was the author of an operetta entitled "The Prince of Moorland." A few months before his death, Arnold's original "French Diction for Singers and Speakers" was published, showing his realization of the essentials of his art. Arnold's connection with the Class related to the College year 1893-94, at which time he took a course in musical history under Professor Paine. January 13, 1888, he married Jeannie O. Fish, who survived him.

Occupation: Lumber and Hardware.

Address: (home) c/o Y. M. C. A., Tacoma, Wash.

FOR ten years I have been in the stock end of the lumber and wholesale hardware business. During that time I have made one trip to Cambridge visiting en route Harry Ulysses Wagner in his Denver home. He has two sturdy boys whom he intends (following the advice of our revered teacher Charles Eliot Norton) to send back to Harvard. I have written no books, addressed no learned assemblages, accumulated no unnecessary degrees, but I have learned how "The Other Half Lives"; how to sympathize with the Toilers of the World. The flying years, how fast they go! and around the corner ever lurks the "cursed log" of Latin 2 ready to fall on our devoted heads. A health to those of us who survive — a cowboy's four fingers, "Here's How to '97."

Address: (business) 15 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H.; (home) 1195 South St., Portsmouth, N. H.

I AM still practising law at Portsmouth, now associated with William E. Marvin and Harry W. Peyser, under the name of Marvin, Batchelder & Peyser. Served as a member of the New Hampshire Constitutional Convention of 1912.

At the end of my obituary in our Fourth Report is the statement that I then had two children, "who keep their dad hustling." That is not my usual classical language, and was, I presume, inserted by our genial secretary to give what he would call "pep" to the account. As I have since added three more youthful members to my family, including twins, I am interested to see what rate of speed he will now feel obliged to assign to my efforts to keep ahead of the H. C. of L.

Occupation: Lawyer.

I PRACTISED law in Boston until the fall of 1903. In 1903 I located in Seattle, where I have since practised law. I became a member of the firm of Herr, Bayley, and Wilson, both of my associates being Yale men.

I have tried hard to think of some honor conferred upon me which might add a bit to the self-satisfaction of our class, but it's no use. Gregg, Foote, and any other preachers of the crowd might deem it worthy of mention that I have been treasurer of my church, but that wouldn't help me with the bankers of the class, I fear. I have also devoted considerable time to Young Men's Christian Association work with much satisfaction with the returns secured.

Occupation: Mining geologist.

Address: (business) Howard-Canfield Bldg., Santa Barbara, Cal.

THE activities which have occupied the last five years of my life have forced the conviction that life now rapidly grows more complex. The life problems, professional problems and manifold opportunities for service, leading us deeper and deeper into the realities of life, bring us closer and closer to the things that are surely worth while. Indeed, who in all our class, during the last part of this period, has not been moved to reflect (in the words of our revered mentor Royce) "on the deepest problems of life."

My professional work, as a consulting mining geologist, has called me to various mining camps to make examinations of properties to determine their economic possibilities, to guide in prospecting, development and mining, and to establish permanent geological departments for the continuation of that work, by the companies operating the properties. In short, the object of my work is to find ore. These several undertakings have been interspersed while at home at Santa Barbara with the human interests centered in church organization, as trustee, in men's club activities, as president, in social service work, as vice president, and in various other activities.

Upon returning to New England, at the close of this period, for the first time in over six years, and living in Cambridge for some months, in close touch with University life, I have been impressed with the great changes in Harvard, not only in material things, but in spirit and policy. In view of the demonstration by the world war of the great accomplishments attained through applied science, loyal Harvard scientists cannot but bitterly regret that Harvard has yielded her high place in that leading field of human endeavor. The hearty greetings and cordial reunions with class and college mates happily evidence the truth of the statement by Dr. Peabody at our last chapel that college friendships, unlike all other friendships, grow stronger with time. It is with deep regret, therefore, that I am called away from Cambridge, by professional duties, as my class gathers there from all corners to celebrate our 20th anniversary.

THE last five years of my life have been very uneventful. I still hold the same positions as stated in the last Report. I have just been elected a director of the Massachusetts Cotton Mills, taking the place of my father who had to resign on account of the new law concerning directors of competing corporations. I have taken two automobile camping trips with my wife, one through the New England states and the other through Canada. We had many interesting experiences and I think I know more about roads than I did. We spent one summer camping and canoeing in New Brunswick and are planning to spend part of next summer in the woods of Maine.

THE last Report made to men of '97, as I remember, was when I was wondering where I would find the price for dinner. It is fitting, therefore, that the present report should begin with the statement that I have found the price but don't know where to dine. Two facts loom large in my life since the spring of 1912; my return to the effete east — notice effete — and my wedding. The first came about as the result of the illness and ultimate death of my mother; the second because — well, because. The most important thing in my life now is arranging — in retrospect — for the education of Henry Haviland Bowles, 2nd, born July 18, 1914. He was one of the most famous children ever born, of course, a twilight sleep child, and consequently far advanced in learning over all others.

Literature has called me as of yore, but money making has called me more. I have led the festive Boy Scout in a famous White Mountain trail building expedition. I have wandered among the ether, alcohol, nitrates and sulphur of the mighty Du Pont powder factories. I have pursued the elusive prospective policy holder attempting to avoid insuring his life. Incidentally I have gathered in a few shekels and intend to send the boy to Harvard. Moral: Get married if you will, but see America first. I know. I have done it. I was penniless; I am wealthy. I was lonesome; I am overwhelmed with business in providing for the finest boy in the world.

I came east on a hurry call and arrived here August 21, 1912. Previously I had been special correspondent for the Portland Oregonian at Tillamook, Ore., down by the broad Pacific. After a brief trip to my home in Cherryfield, Maine, I returned to Washington, D.C., and was connected with newspapers there, particularly the Washington Times. Here I was also engaged in work with the Boy Scouts of America. I left Washington November 10, 1915 and after brief visits to different places came to Pennsgrove, N.J., on December 30, 1915, then to Wilmington, May 8, 1916, and have been here ever since. I have a home in Washington and my permanent address is there. I am a member of the Harvard Club here and also a punctual attendant at the monthly luncheons of the Chamber of Commerce. My wife is a suffragist and I am not, but she manages to have her own way pretty regularly. I never could see why women wanted to vote. They don't need to.

My father died suddenly in June, 1916. That removes the Bowles family from eastern Maine, where they have been known for over a century.

I have just learned that in spite of my ardent attempts to keep in touch with the class I actually have been "lost" and was advertised for. Like the Indian in the story, however, I knew where I was all the time. I don't know that I shall be able to attend the coming reunion, but thus far I never have carried out my intentions regarding any of the reunions and may not this time. At present I have no intention of coming. I have not written any books, but my literary compositions have reached the composing room of many daily newspapers. My latest feat was getting the war resolution recently adopted here at a luncheon by the Harvard Club in print and upon the street fully half an hour before the luncheon was held.

DID not reply. Above data and story following were culled from the last report:

“As proof of my ability as a lawyer, I refer to a case begun in 1899, the developments of which have since supported the members of my firm. I am at this moment about to bring the case to one of its trials. It is not sufficiently promising, however, to guarantee the occupation and support of the next generation, so I have remained unmarried. My labors since 1897 have been three times seriously interrupted, once in 1899, when I walked through Scotland, largely alone, and saw a number of pleasant classmates in London and the Harvard-Yale-Oxford-Cambridge contests; again in 1906, when, with Bill Morrow, '00, I ambled through parts of Scandinavia, and finally in 1910, when, again alone, walked through Ireland.”

Occupation: Teacher.

Address: (business) De Witt Clinton High School, New York, N. Y.; (home) 120 Convent Ave., New York, N. Y.

THE Fourth Report found me a teacher of Latin in the DeWitt Clinton High School, New York City. I am head of the Latin Department now and the school has grown from 3000 to 5500 boys — a little world in itself. I have had a varied and interesting experience in this work, but it is not of the kind that is of general interest. I have never been able to break away at Commencement from the duties here, and have drifted out of touch with Cambridge doings. We are running double sessions — which means that principal and heads of departments are at school most of their waking hours, and when summer comes, I have been only too eager to bury myself in the mountains and woods for a little while and live very close to nature. I feel that my years here have counted for something of usefulness, but they have produced little that can be measured against the achievements of the great ones among us — and the annals of them are appropriately “short and simple.”

Unmarried.

Address: 19 High St., Worcester, Mass.

SINCE the last Report I lay claim to no remarkable feats of prowess. Perhaps the most fun I have had was on a round-trip to California in the summer of 1915, when, incidentally, I read a paper before the American Medical Association at San Francisco. Then this country looked good enough to keep as long as we can.

FREDERIC ANSON BURLINGAME

Occupation: Lawyer.

Address: (business) 32 Liberty St., New York, N. Y.; (home) Short Hills, N. J.

THERE is little to add to the statement in the Fourth Report. The last five years have slipped by with a swiftness quite disconcerting. They have not been eventful years for me in any sense that would interest my classmates. I have continued to practise law independently, although in an office association with other men. I have not tried to specialize, but have taken what has come to me, and have managed to keep busy. My office is in the Mutual Life Building where it was five years ago.

There have been no changes in my immediate family. Our home is still at Short Hills, New Jersey, where we have recently built a house, and where we now feel that we are permanently established.

Degrees: A.B.; LL.B. 1899, and LL.M. 1901 (N. Y. Law School).

Married: Flora Rothschild, Sept. 1, 1909, Columbus, O.

Occupation: Lawyer.

Address: (business) 35 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.; (home) 523 West 112th St., New York, N. Y.

SINCE 1899 I have been continuously engaged in active practice in the city of New York, first alone, later as senior member of the firm of Burnstine and Goldberg, and now as head of the firm of Burnstine and Geist.

Beyond these activities, there is little to record except hunting trips to the Adirondacks and North Canada, ranching in Wyoming, and several trips to Europe. The only things of my authorship are masses of briefs which I am sure on later perusal must have been read by the courts, if read at all, with varying emotions with which I can now sympathize. All in all, in retrospect, there has been little in the past twenty years except that pleasure and satisfaction which only hard work can give.

CHARLES VALENTINE BUSCH

Born at Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1873.

DID not reply. Data taken from last report. Busch has had a wide and varied range of experience, having constructed and equipped the Buffalo, Gardenville and Ebenezer Electric Railroad, and served as chief engineer for the Perry, Pike, Castile and Silver Springs Electric Railroad, and for the Batavia, Medina and Olcott Beach Electric Railroad. He has been assistant engineer in the Bureau of Engineering in the city of Buffalo, and superintended the construction of the Buffalo Traction Company's electric railroad in the city of Buffalo. His firm installed the water works and lighting system for Kenmore, N. Y. He acted as engineer for the construction of the waterworks for Blasdell, N. Y. Among his more important pieces of contracting work was the preliminary excavation and construction of part of the foundation for the dam of the Wachusett reservoir at Clinton, Mass., and the opening of the granite quarry for the Metropolitan Water Board at Boylston, Mass.

These and many other engineering projects have made up a very busy, important and interesting career.

AFTER leaving college, I returned to St. Louis. I resided there and engaged in a manufacturing business until 1900. At that time I sold my interest in the business and purchased a farm in Clarke County, Va., where I have since made my home.

This was my report five years ago. I have nothing of interest to add.

Occupation: Iron and Steel Business.

Address: (business) c/o Youngstown Steel & Tube Co., Youngstown, O.; (home) 444 Wick Ave., Youngstown, O.

SINCE the Fourth Report my business activities have undergone an agreeable change in that I have been transferred from the works of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company to the city office of the same firm. I am secretary of the Local Council Boy Scouts of America and am interested in other local civic and social welfare work. A year ago I had a part in the organization of the Harvard Club of Youngstown, of which I am secretary.

Address: (business) 59 Wall St., New York, N. Y.; (home) Short Hills, N. J.

THERE is little to add to what was said in the Fourth Report. I am still a member of the law firm of Harrison, Elliott & Byrd, 59 Wall Street, New York. I also practise in New Jersey, and have an office at 738 Broad Street, Newark. I still live at Short Hills. On December 31, 1917, I shall finish six and one-half years of service on the Township Committee and Board of Health of the Township of Millburn, which includes Short Hills and the neighboring territory. It has been interesting and I trust useful work.

The Cairns family is spending the academic year 1916-17 in Chicago, where, on sabbatical leave, I am studying at the University of Chicago. I shall miss very much this Commencement time communing with the genial souls of 1897 whom I knew in my rather brief stay in Harvard.

Occupation: Lawyer.

Address: (business) 53 State St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 49 Farlow Road, Newton, Mass.

IN view of prophetic references in the last Report I record my marriage and the birth of two sons with great satisfaction. I am still supposed to be practising law. In fact, the settlement of a large estate has involved me in the management of copper mines, manufacturing enterprises, and a lot of other things which I don't know very much about. With the exception of one additional year in the Newton City Government I have occupied no public offices.

Occupation: Merchant.

Address: (business) 440 Wells St., Chicago, Ill.; (home) 677 North Michigan Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

THE year following graduation I was associated with the Congress Gold Company, Arizona, engaged in mining. Since June, 1898, I have been associated with the firm of George B. Carpenter and Company of Chicago, dealers in railroad and contractors' supplies. I was admitted to partnership in 1901. The firm was incorporated in 1909, and I was then elected secretary.

The five-year interval from the time of issue of Quindecennial Class Report to date has brought forth little in my life which is worthy of comment in this place, so let me check as O.K. the above paragraph which is my former brief account and express the hope that something of interest may happen to me before I am next called on to report.

JOHN ALDEN CARPENTER

Born at Park Ridge, Ill., Feb. 28, 1876.

Parents: George Benjamin, Elizabeth C. (Greene) Carpenter.

School: University School, Chicago, Ill.

Occupation: Merchant and Musician.

Address: (business) 440 Wells St., Chicago, Ill.; (home) 710 Rush St., Chicago, Ill.

Outside of business, I have continued my interest in music, piano, and more particularly in composition. During the past five years, while still retaining my position with George B. Carpenter & Co., I have enjoyed increased musical activity with some measure of success.

Occupation: Surgeon.

Address: (business) Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass.; (home) 20 Hereford St., Boston, Mass.

THE passage of five years has not brought the startling changes which one expects of them in anticipation. My profession is the practise and teaching of surgery and my activities center about the Harvard Medical School, in which I am Assistant Professor of Surgical Anatomy and Associate in Surgery. In 1913 I resigned from the Surgical Staff of the Boston City Hospital to become Surgeon to the newly founded Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in junior association with Dr. Harvey Cushing. This severance of a service to a splendid institution by my family, first begun by my father in 1864, occasioned me much regret, but seemed wise because the close affiliation of the Brigham Hospital with the Harvard Medical School, seemed to insure greater opportunities for teaching. In November, 1915, at the request of President Lowell, I organized and took to France the second contingent of the "Harvard Unit," which had charge, under the direction of the British War Office, of a Base Hospital with the British Expeditionary Force. That this service was interesting may well be imagined. We were exposed to practically no danger. This small contribution by Harvard is being continued, I hope to the end of the war.

My wife and I have been gladdened by the safe advent of a fourth boy, Daniel Sargent, on Dec. 19, 1916.

Address: (business) Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.; (home) 604 Waterman Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

I retained also my title of Assistant Professor of Spanish, Italian, and Romanic Philology and have continued to give yearly one or two courses in those branches. At the beginning of 1914-15, my teaching title was changed to Associate Professor of Romanic Languages.

I scarcely need to add that my work, while varied and, I hope, not without its share of usefulness, does not afford interesting copy for a report.

Unmarried.

Occupation: War relief work.

Address: (business) c/o William Ware & Co., 110 Summer St., Boston, Mass.;
(home) 1640 Cambridge St., Cambridge, Mass.

THE only matters of any importance I can relate, since the last Report, have to do with my experience in connection with the Great European War, as follows: in the spring of 1914, I went by the Canadian Pacific route to Vancouver, stopping at different places of interest, on the way, and then started on a voyage intending to reach New Zealand, via Honolulu and Samoa.

At the latter place I was caught by the outbreak of the War. Samoa was a German colony and the only steamship line (British) calling there, was, of course, discontinued, so there was no way of leaving the islands during the first month of the war. At the end of that time a British fleet came and captured the islands, after which I made my way back home, to learn with astonishment that this country was making no preparation whatever to defend itself against the danger that threatened it, as well as every other nation—the danger of German domination.

I have been at home ever since, devoting myself to work in the interests of the Allies, being a volunteer worker at the New England branch of the American Fund for French Wounded, which ships hospital-supplies, clothing, etc., to France. I am doing this to help in a just and righteous cause, and also to register my protest against our Government's tame toleration of German outrages and domineering methods towards Americans.

Occupation: Treasurer.

Address: (business) 93 Federal St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Trapelo Road, Lincoln, Mass.

THERE is little of interest to be added to what I stated in the last Report.

I am still living in Lincoln and what I stated five years ago applies equally well today. As vice-president, treasurer, and a fairly large owner of the Spray Engineering Company, I am kept exceedingly busy. As engineers and manufacturers of power house equipment, principally cooling ponds and air washers, we have shared in the general prosperity, and I find my work interesting and in every way satisfactory.

My boys and girl are growing up fast and most of my spare time is spent in enjoying them and their interests.

I have not traveled to any extent, written any books, or held public office of any sort.

"Nervous prostration forced me to leave College. Two years were spent in trying to make sporadic moments of recuperation approach a maximum. A similar length of time had to be employed eradicating erroneous notions of the world, a task that should have been performed long before. Then I did the usual thing — studied law."

Mexican border service with the National Guard for five months is the only experience of consequence which has disturbed the even tenor of my way.

Even now as I write it seems likely that once again I may be called to the colors.

Address: (business) 24 Milk St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 56 Spooner Road, Chestnut Hill, Brookline, Mass.

MY birthday and other statistics in the Quindecennial Report remain the same. Not much to say for myself these last five years. I have successfully resisted the temptation to write a booklet on my favorite recreation, canoeing and fishing. I am too canny to run for public office, but have put in some more drudgery on Boston Chamber of Commerce committees as follows: two years on the Committee on Municipal and Metropolitan Affairs, one year as chairman of the Committee on City Planning, and the last two years on the Committee on Financing Public Improvements, thereby evoking supercilious smiles from the '97 Solons on Beacon Hill. There is nothing to add to the family roster, but I will back my one boy at fly-fishing for Salvelinus fontinalis against the total progeny of any member of the class.

EDWARD RUSSELL COGSWELL, Jr.

Born at Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 19, 1874.

Address: (permanent) 61 Kirkland St., Cambridge, Mass.; (home) 116 Tappan St., Brookline, Mass.

SINCE the last report I have spent two years in the offices of Pray and Gallagher, and Pray, Hubbard and White, landscape architects, in Boston. In the summer of 1904 I made a trip through the South, during which I crossed the mountains from North Carolina to Tennessee, and ascended Mount Mitchell. At Lake Toxaway and Asheville I was with S. C. Sellers, '97. On September 25, 1906, I was married to Theodora Bates, Radcliffe, 1902, daughter of Joseph Cony and Harriet Augusta (Pearson) Bates.

Since my marriage, I have moved from Cambridge to Newton Highlands, where, after a year and a half in the office of Olmsted Brothers, of Brookline, I began to practise landscape architecture independently. My daughter, Dorothea Barton Cogswell, was born December 13, 1908. Besides my work, my chief interests are my duties as clerk of the parish of St. Paul, Newton Highlands, my garden, occasional tennis, and the study of birds.

Since the last Report I continued to live at the same address in Newton Highlands and practise Landscape Architecture. About April 1, 1917 I moved my family to 116 Tappan St., Brookline, Mass.

FOR many years I lived in one family as tutor in charge of the education of the children.

In 1912 I went abroad with this family, and spent nearly two years in Italy and England. Side trips contributed greatly to the pleasure in the course of which I grew to know Belgium, France, and Switzerland. The opening of the war found me in Lausanne, Switzerland, from which in due course I made my way through France to England and thence home.

I am now engaged in tutoring work in Cambridge, and have been most successful in preparing boys for college, and also in college tutoring.

IN the course of time which onward flows during the years between our Class Reports, some of us have had varied careers and experiences to record, in our life's history and Class record. While some are called to different parts of the world in various professions and callings it is also necessary for others to settle down in one locality. I have chosen the latter and still continue my life's work as heretofore recorded in our previous records. I still practise the profession of an architect with its daily study of its modern usages and adaptations, and I have also traveled more than formerly. I have also held several offices of trust and honor in the various organizations to which I belong.

HERBERT CERDÁ DE VILARRESTAU CORNWELL

HAVING completed the work required for my degree at college in 1896, I entered the Harvard Medical School in the fall of that year, and was graduated in medicine in 1900.

After serving as a house officer at the Boston City Hospital for eighteen months, and for six months at the Boston Lying-in Hospital, I came to New York to practise, late in 1902.

Until recently my work has been general, but during the past three years it has been concerned more with diseases of the nervous system, and my aim is to limit it essentially to this branch.

I am now physician-in-chief to the medical department of the St. Bartholomew's Clinic, and instructor in diseases of the nervous system at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School.

Apart from the foregoing, outside interests have been few, practically the only other position of responsibility being a membership on the school board of my district, on which board, by the way, the two other male members are also Harvard men.

During the past five years the changes in my hospital appointments have been as follows: Soon after the report was issued, I resigned as Physician in Chief to the Medical Department of St. Bartholomew's Clinic and shortly after that was appointed Adjunct Professor in Diseases of the Nervous System at the New York Post-Graduate Hospital School. This appointment I retained for two years when, upon being appointed as Consulting Neurologist to the Fordham Hospital, I resigned from the Post-Graduate Medical School because of the large amount of time which my work at the Fordham Hospital demanded. This position I still hold.

Occupation: Lawyer.

Address: (business) 54 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 77 Walnut Park, Boston, Mass.

DURING the past five years, I have continued the general practise of law, but the care and settlement of estates has become a more important part of my business. I have also had quite a little experience in hearing and reporting upon cases referred to me as Auditor or Master.

Outside of public affairs, in which I still keep up an active interest, my work as secretary of the Roxbury Latin School has claimed a large share of my time and energy. The Trustees are working upon the problem of relocating the school, providing it with an up-to-date plant, and making it an all-day school, with prescribed periods for recitation, study, and physical exercise. In this connection, it may interest some of my classmates to know that there are several flourishing troops of Boy Scouts at the school. I am a great believer in the scout movement and am connected with the organization of Boy Scouts in Greater Boston.

But of all my concerns during the past few years, my family has seemed to me the most worth while, and I point with a father's hope and pride to my contribution to the genealogical data of the class since our last report.

In 1913 I was made Professor of Latin in St. Stephen's College, a position which I still hold.

KARL DE LAITRE

Born at Minneapolis, Minn., June 23, 1874.

Parents: John, Clarissa Towle (Eastman) De Laitre.

School: East Side High School, Minneapolis.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Occupation: Wholesale grocer and lumber manufacturing.

Address: (business) 924 Plymouth Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn., (permanent) 1905 Pillsbury Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

TWO years in the employ of the Pioneer Fuel Company, in coal dock construction work, at Duluth, Minn., and a year in the lumber business in Minneapolis and timber cruising in western Oregon were among my first activities after leaving college.

In the winter of 1900 I traveled in southern Europe and the Mediterranean countries. In 1901 I helped establish and became actively interested in the Green and De Laitre Company, wholesale grocers. I am still connected with this company.

In 1904 I was nominated and elected on the Republican ticket as a representative in the State Legislature of Minnesota, serving one term. Since that time I have devoted considerable time to political and civic affairs. In 1909 I was nominated and elected at a special election to fill an unexpired term in the City Council, and was re-elected at the regular election in 1910 for a full four-year term. During my last two years in the City Council of Minneapolis I served as President of that body, devoting a large part of my time to municipal work. My term expired with the year 1914. Since then I have given considerable time to civic matters, principally through the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Association, of which I am a director and vice-president. My business activities are scattered, requiring occasional trips to the west coast and into Canada.

The scholarships awarded by the various State Clubs are doing a great good not only to those who receive them but to the Harvard men who provide them. It draws graduates together in doing a useful work and brings them into closer touch with the University. The Associated Clubs have been a powerful factor in promoting this good work. I am in favor of the class of '97 establishing a fund on its twenty-fifth Reunion that will give sufficient revenue to support one or more Freshmen scholarships to be awarded through the Associated Clubs.

I wish particularly to request that all members of '97 coming to Minneapolis, even though only waiting to make train connections, will call me up by telephone, giving me the opportunity to meet them and remake class acquaintances, and also to help them enjoy my native city.

Occupation: Builder.

Address: (home) 14 Claremont St., Worcester, Mass.

THE last five years have been for me full of varied business experiences. Carrying on many operations of the Norcross Brothers Company I have traveled extensively from Florida to Canada, from Maine to Missouri. I look with some satisfaction on having erected the Scottish Rite Temple at Washington, D. C., one of the best productions of architecture in the country; and having produced and prepared the 315,000 feet of marble for the Field Museum at Chicago. On the latter work I have come in agreeable contact with our classmate, Al Sprague, one of the Trustees.

At the beginning of this year I severed my official connection with The Norcross Brothers Company, but have continued to be financially interested in it. I still report myself as a builder, although, owing to the unsettled conditions in the country, I have refrained from affiliating myself at this writing. I have busied myself in several minor affairs and have been interested in the Betterment League of Worcester. I have been attached to Masonic matters, and am now High Priest of Eureka Royal Arch Chapter.

Occupation: Minister.

Address: 25 Crescent Road, Winchester, Mass.

I FEEL rather backward about filling in any account whatever as I was with the class only for my freshman year and my history cannot be of interest to many, if any.

All that needs be said is that for eleven years, from 1901 until 1912, I was rector of St. James Church, Roxbury. Since then I have been rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester, and so long as the people of this parish can stand for me, I never want to do anything else or be in any other place. These are the only offices "of honor or trust" ever committed to my charge. I never have had any "noteworthy publication."

Occupation: Oriental rug manufacturer and importer.

Address: (business) 101 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.; (home) 155 Secor Lane, Pelham Manor, N. Y.

I TOOK a cropper in the year 1913, or so it seemed at the time. My oriental rug corporation gave up the job of supporting me; other legs of financial support fractured sympathetically; it was a cripple year. Nothing so disquieting, I am happy to report, has happened since.

At this writing I am doing a thriving business in Persian rugs in my own right and under my single name. I am manufacturing and importing Chinese rugs under the name of the Chinese Rug Company. These activities and the recognition recently given me by the American Art Association in the matter of cataloguing the important old rugs in the Davanzati Palace Collection have re-established my house.

ROLAND BURRAGE DIXON

Born at Worcester, Mass., Nov. 6, 1875.

School: Hopkinson's School, Boston, Mass.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Teacher.

Address: (business) Peabody Museum, Cambridge, Mass.; (home) "Zodyul," Bare Hill, Harvard, Mass.

JUST after the conclusion of our Quindecennial celebration, I left for a trip around the world, my first Sabbatical year having arrived. Going direct to India, I spent several months in the Northern Himalayas and Western Tibet and later, after a couple of months in India, saw considerable of Upper Burma, the Chinese Frontier country, and the Shan States. Java, China, and Japan filled the rest of the time before I had to be back in Cambridge in the autumn of 1913. Since then I've been a stay-at-home, except for a couple of months in the California Sierras in the summer of 1914. I've moved from Cambridge to Harvard, Mass., where I now greatly enjoy country life, and gayly commute to Cambridge. It is sometimes a bit strenuous in winter, but it is mighty well worth it.

As a matter of historical record, I may add that this last year I was appointed Professor of Anthropology in the University. In 1913-15 I held the office of President of the American Anthropological Association. In September last I unloaded on the long-suffering public a volume on "Oceanic Mythology," and have sworn an oath not to offend again if I can help it.

I'm still unmarried, and am beginning to regard the situation as hopeless.

In May, 1913, I returned to private practise and became a member of the firm of Rearich Dorr & Travis and have since engaged in general practise in New York City.

Then I became assistant to the general director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith (Catholic Foreign Missions Society). Pursuing health I tramped six thousand miles about New England. After a short course at the New Hampshire State College, I took up farming, with a growing conviction that the actual producer is securing an unusually small share of the spoils of the high cost of living.

CARL STEPHEN DOW

SINCE our Fourth Report was issued little of interest has happened to me. I have continued to earn my daily bread in the same business — writing advertising and magazine articles, preparing selling and advertising campaigns, catalogs, booklets, etc. I was joint author of the "Starrett Book for Machinists' Apprentices," of which more than 35,000 copies have been printed.

In 1912, I sold my house in Hyde Park, Mass., and moved to Auburndale. After three years I again became uneasy, sold my house, and built in Auburndale a brick bungalow in which I now feel at home.

Address: (business) St. Paul's Church, Malden, Mass.; (home) 20 Florence St., Malden, Mass.

I SHALL have been rector of St. Paul's Church, Malden, twelve years by June. The minister's job is a man's job all right, — seven days in the week. But it is a wonderfully precious opportunity nevertheless. As for St. Paul's, there couldn't be a finer parish.

CHARLES DAVIS DREW

Born at Foochow, China, Sept. 13, 1875.

Parents: Edward Bangs, Anna Davis Drew.

School: Boston Latin School, Boston, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degrees: A.B.; S.B. 1899 (Mass. Inst. of Tech.).

Married: Helen Bogart Lane, March 17, 1906, Flushing, N. Y.

Child: Edward Allen, June 14, 1916.

Occupation: Civil engineer.

Address: (business) 159 Remsen St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; (home) 18 Ash St., Flushing, N. Y.

IN April, 1912, I was appointed manager for completing the Cordoba Light and Power contract, and in August turned over the job to our clients. From September, 1912, to April, 1914, I was attached to White's main Argentine office in Buenos Aires, and was engaged chiefly in the investigation and study of new projects, hydro-electric, tramway, railway, land-reclamation, refuse incineration, etc. Finally I assisted in the preparation of a commercial and technical report on a subway system for Buenos Aires (a city of about the size of Philadelphia), and directed the surveys, designs, and plans, which were presented to the Municipality for approval in February, 1914.

From April to June, 1914, I enjoyed my first real vacation at home since 1906, and attended my first Class Day and Commencement since 1905, in a spirit of most grateful appreciation.

My wife and I returned to Buenos Aires in the eventful month of July, 1914, prepared for a stay of several years. But the Kaiser willed otherwise. White's office was closed on August 5, and we returned to New York as quickly as the Dresden and Karlsruhe permitted. The war seemed very near to us in Buenos Aires. Most of our office force went to England at once to enlist, and have since suffered the average fate of the "first hundred thousand." In the pension where my wife and I were staying were two gallant young Frenchmen, who sailed for France with thousands of other reservists. We shall never forget their calm, cheerful, and indomitable spirit, so typical of their country, — then and today.

Since October, 1914, I have been Resident Engineer for the Public Service Commission of the State of N. Y., in charge of a section of the new tunnels under the East River. I have renewed many old acquaintances and friendships, and am almost reconciled to the quiet suburban life of the average American engineer.

I became interested in the preparedness movement before it became fashionable, in fact before the term had been invented. I joined the 7th New York Infantry in February, 1915, and put in three months with them as a "dough-boy" at McAllen, Tex., in the summer of 1916. I am a member of the Executive Committee of the Flushing Branch of the National Security League.

GEORGE PETERS DRURY

Born at Boston, Mass., Aug. 13, 1876.

Parents: William Henry, Mary Alice (Peters) Drury.

School: Waltham High School, Waltham, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degrees: A.B.; LL.B. 1900.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Lawyer.

Address: (business) 89 State St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Linden St., Waltham, Mass.

AT the time of writing my contribution to the Fourth Report, I was entering upon my first year as a representative from Waltham in the legislature of Massachusetts. I was re-elected each year, as a Republican, for four terms more. In June, 1916, I resigned to accept the position of secretary of the commissioners to consolidate the Laws of Massachusetts, which I now hold.

In November, 1913, I moved my office to 89 State St., Boston, and have since been engaged individually and as a member of the firm of French & Curtiss, in the active practise of law, in which I still continue.

As house chairman of the committee on taxation of the legislature, and as a member of a special commission on that subject, I had some share in drafting and passing the state income tax law. In common, probably, with most other members of the class, I have for the past two years been much interested in the questions of preparedness, military training, the duty of the nation toward its citizens in foreign countries and on the high seas, and foreign policy. This interest led me in January, 1916, to accept an appointment by Governor McCall to go to Washington as a delegate to the National Security Congress. The experience proved interesting and instructive.

MORSE STEWART DUFFIELD

Occupation: Miner and rancher.

Address: 245 South 12th East St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

DID not reply. Data taken from previous report. His very interesting experiences of five years ago have been blue-penciled. What remains of the story follows: "I am now peddling rock to the citrus industry, etc., in California, and expect eventually to show the whole northwest what it can do per acre yield by using my phosphate rock. Of course that will make Jim Hill grumble about the poor yields of his part of the map. I have also now a two-hundred-and-forty-acre ranch on the Snake River in Idaho, under the Twin Falls irrigation canal, one hundred and fifty acres of apples, a bunch of cattle on the range, twenty mares on the place, a stud horse, some pigs, Airedale terriers, Holsteins, etc. My alfalfa stacks show up on the horizon every fall, and if any old '97ers ever show up, I'll show 'em some trout in the canyon, some cider in the cellar, and cheer 'em up with some of the Idaho-Utah spirit. Here we don't give a damn if it never rains. And as for politics, we're all as progressive as they make 'em anywhere."

"I have collected considerable data regarding more particularly the life histories of the birds of southern Connecticut. I am an associate member of the American Ornithologist Union."

This was the gist of his narrative five years ago, from which the above data are taken.

THE most important event of the past five years was my marriage in 1913. Since then I have established myself in the country and have just finished building a home for my family. My farm serves the household with good wholesome things to eat and, if the cost of production is not analyzed too closely, it is a great success. At any rate I find it a most interesting hobby and of absorbing interest.

I have done no big game hunting since the last report, but I am still fond of shooting and always find time each year for an outing in the field.

I hold a directorship in the Equitable Guarantee & Trust Co. of Wilmington, Del.

In 1896 I became a member of a corporation, embarking in business for myself, but not finding the work congenial, I sold out my holdings and for the past two years I have been with F. W. ### MERRITT LYNDON FERNALD

Born at Orono, Me., Oct. 5, 1873.

Parents: Merritt Caldwell, Mary Lovejoy (Hewood) Fernald.

School: High School, Orono, Me.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: S.B.

Married: Margaret Howard Grant, April 15, 1907, Providence, R. I.

Children: Katharine, April 26, 1908; Mary, Nov. 23, 1910; Henry Grant, Sept. 4, 1913.

Occupation: Botanist; Fisher Professor of Natural History, Harvard.

Address: (business) Gray Herbarium, Cambridge, Mass.; (home) 14 Hawthorn St., Cambridge, Mass.

SINCE graduation I have remained at Harvard. I am still doing work in botany, my title being Fisher Professor of Natural History. I have visited a number of the Old World museums and universities, and have spent practically every summer exploring somewhere in northern Maine, eastern Canada, Newfoundland, or Labrador.

Since its foundation, in 1899, I have been an editor of Rhodora, the monthly journal of the New England Botanical Club.

In 1910 I was called upon to look into such botanical evidence as is given in the Norse Sagas relating to the discovery of America about the year 1000. The result was a complete surprise, for a close study of the folk-names and uses of the plants mentioned in the Sagas showed that the southern limit of Leif Ericsson's voyage must have been in southern Labrador or northern Newfoundland; and I found my paper, "Notes on the Plants of Wineland the Good," being praised or condemned in many different tongues. However, except by some Norwegians who wish to have discovered nothing less important than Boston or Halifax, the localization of "Wineland" in Newfoundland or Labrador is now generally accepted by historians.

In 1911, I published an account of "A Botanical Expedition to Newfoundland and Southern Labrador," in which it was shown that a large proportion of the plants of Newfoundland are identical with those of Cape Cod, Long Island, and southeastern New Jersey; and upon this and similar zoölogical evidence it was demonstrated that at some time since the last glacial periods, the continental shelf, now represented by Nantucket Shoals, George's Banks, Sable Island Banks, etc., must have formed dry land connection from New Jersey and Cape Cod all the way to Newfoundland, an important geological discovery, which, owing to the drowning in the sea of the geological evidence, geologists had had no means of getting at.

HAMILTON EASTER FIELD

Born at Brooklyn, N. Y., April 21, 1873.

Parents: Aaron, Lydia Seaman (Haviland) Field.

School: Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Years in College: 1893-94.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Artist.

Address: 106 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y.

UPON leaving Harvard I took up the study of painting, going abroad in 1894 to take up my residence in Paris. Just before the Greco-Turkish war I joined in a grand manifestation for the Greeks (I would manifest for the Turks today). The object we had in mind was to express our feelings in front of the Turkish Embassy. Cordons of police and cavalry were stationed everywhere. So few of the students had ever had the experience of a Harvard "Bloody Monday Night" that we never reached the Embassy, and over a thousand of us were taken for "brutalities toward the police" and "nocturnal disturbances." My own languishing in jail was of short duration, as I had neglected to provide myself with concealed weapons. No other honors have been thrust upon me.

Since my return to America in 1902 I have made my home in Brooklyn, where I practise the gentle arts of portraiture, landscape painting, and teaching the young idea how to waste canvas and paint. On account of the war my visits to Europe have come to an abrupt end. I still keep my studio in Rome but do not know whether it may not even now have been destroyed by an Austrian aeroplane or a German submarine. Summers I pass my time in teaching and painting at Ogunquit, Maine. I have a little island there haunted by summer visitors, and I have gained quite an amount of notoriety through my efforts to keep the mob off my front porch.

Occupation: Cashier; Mass. Agency Prudential Ins. Co. of America.

Address: (business) 185 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 25 Main St., Framingham, Mass.

FOR the past three years, I have held the position of cashier for the Massachusetts Agency of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, while, at the same time, like all conscientious life insurance men, doing my best to spread the Gospel of Thrift, as exemplified by life insurance policies. Step up! Any and all of you! Once or twice I have taken a trip to see the oranges grow, but didn't find enough of them to warrant my returning to Arizona to stay. Once in a while, the call to wander sounds pretty loud, but thus far I have managed to stifle it by a short trip to the woods or mountains. So I look upon myself now as a fixture in Boston.

ELMER METCALF FISHER

Occupation: Leather.

Address: (business) 161 South St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Pilgrim Road, Waban, Mass.

I HAVE been with the A. C. Lawrence Leather Company of Boston in various capacities, getting every day a fuller realization of the meaning of the old trade byword, "There is nothing like leather." I have traveled somewhat in this country on business, and made one trip to Europe, in 1911, in the interest of my concern's export business. I am now assistant general manager of this company and of the Winchester Tannery Company, a director of the latter, and of the New England Shoe and Leather Association.

The past five years have been uneventful, like the preceding five but more so.

Occupation: Teacher (of French).

Address: St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

THOUGH the years that have passed only too rapidly since the last class report have contained nothing very eventful or notable to record, they have been by no means empty or dull. They have been blessed with health and happiness and filled with the many stimulating activities and interests connected with the work and life of a boys' school. Under such circumstances, one is constantly drinking at a never-failing "fountain of youth" and ever renewing his own — without much reason to bemoan the passing of the years.

Frequent vacations, spent for the most part in the open, are also great sources of renewal which help one to smile at formidable-figured anniversaries. Most helpful and the pleasantest to record of all the events of the past years was six months of travel and study spent in France in the summer and fall of 1913. My love for that sweet and smiling land is now hallowed with reverence for the noble spirit of endurance and self-sacrifice displayed by her sons in the great struggle for righteousness now raging and I deem myself truly fortunate to be able to glorify her name in my work.

Occupation: Manufacturer.

DID not reply. Data taken from previous narrative where he reported: "I am a member of the Rensselaer County Bar and of its bar association. I do not find time for general legal practise, but do give attention to all legal matters affecting our own corporation. In October, 1901, I went to assist my father in his duties as president and treasurer of Fitzgerald Brothers Brewing Company, of which company I had been secretary since its incorporation, January, 4, 1897. I have since continued in the active management of the concern.

“In January, 1910, I was elected a director of the National City Bank of Troy, to succeed my father, Edmund Fitzgerald.”

Occupation: Theologian.

Address: (business) Divinity Library, Divinity Ave., Cambridge, Mass; (home) 22 Highland St., Cambridge, Mass.

IHAVE little to add to my class record of five years ago, for the romance and adventure of my life are all home-made. The one significant change has been in my occupation. On April 1, 1914, I resigned my secretaryship at the American Unitarian Association to accept an assistant professorship in the Harvard Divinity School (Preaching and Parish Administration), combined with the secretaryship of the Divinity Faculty. This entrance into the service of the University along lines for which my professional training and experience had in a measure fitted me was quite unforeseen, but has been on the whole very pleasant and satisfactory.

HAVING written only a few lines concerning my twenty-one-year-old dog in both of the other Class Reports, I am going to take our Honorable Secretary at his word and write a somewhat fuller history of my life since the dog died. After discarding mourning, I took up polo again as before, and my chief motive then was to see how many good polo ponies I could collect. Since my marriage, four years ago, I have made more of a specialty of children, and prefer the latter. We have two children, the older being called Phyllis, for no one in particular, and the younger named Robert Bennet Forbes, for my grandfather, who went to sea at the age of thirteen and was captain of a ship in the China trade at the age of twenty. If this youngster turns out to be half as good as his great-grandfather, and twice as good as his father, his parents will be satisfied.

Let me here give a word of advice to all the unmarried members of the class, to look for their wives in other cities from the one in which they live. One's faults are always known to everybody in one's native city, and one's good qualities are taken for granted. Only see how it worked in my case!!

I believe a hobby is a good thing to have if one doesn't roll up a big debt and go to jail in its pursuit. For a number of years I have ransacked the country for old furniture, occasionally not getting stuck, and have also collected over one hundred whaling prints of many different countries, including America, Holland, Italy, Germany (before the war), England, Japan, Norway, and Belgium. When I have any spare time I go down to the State Street Trust Company where I meet picture and furniture dealers from nine-thirty A.M. to four P.M. After these hours I visit them.

The last few years I have taken up golf in a way to replace polo, but have found it considerably more expensive for the beginner than the latter sport. I prefer golf to tennis because of the lack of spectators.

I should like to write many pages more, giving you my ideas about conditions abroad and in this country, but think it wiser not to do so, merely adding that I am a rabid pro-Ally (having been brought up in a bank, I have been educated to believe that if a man puts his name on a piece of paper, he intends to stand by his promise) and every day I pick up the morning paper I become more and more of a Republican.

WALTER BURTON FORD

Occupation: Junior Professor of Mathematics, University of Michigan.

Address: (home) 904 Forest St., Ann Arbor, Mich.; (permanent) 1 Ford Block, Oneonta, N. Y.

I SEE that my last report, written when I had been fifteen years "out," tells about the same story I would naturally tell now. However, these last five years have seen several pleasant surprises, one of which was my election a year ago to the Chairmanship of the Chicago section of the American Mathematical Society and another was the favorable reception afforded to my book entitled "Studies on Divergent Series and Summability," published about a year and a half ago. The biggest all-around event was no doubt the arrival of our new boy Clinton Banker Ford, who was just about one year too late to get into my last report.

PROFESSOR HUGHELL E. W. FOSBROKE of the Episcopal Theological Seminary of Cambridge, Mass., was recently elected Dean of the General Theological Seminary, one of the most influential offices in the Protestant Episcopal Church in America.

According to the New York Times, of Sept. 20, 1916, from which this story is taken, "Professor Fosbroke is a 'high churchman.' Although the Dean of the General Theological Seminary has been said to wield more influence over the teaching of the Protestant Episcopal Church than any other man, no sharp issue was made in this election, it was said yesterday, between the high and low church factions.

"Professor Fosbroke was asked, in the formal announcement of his election, to come to this city and take active charge of the position before the first of next year. He has been, for the last seven years, Professor of the History and Religion of Israel at the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge.

"He was born in England and came to this country as a child; was educated in the public schools and for a time attended Harvard. Later he engaged in business. He lived for some time in Alaska, but returned and prepared to become a clergyman by studying in the seminary at Nashotah, Neb., where he became one of the instructors and later head of the preparatory department. After serving for eight years as a Professor of Old Testament History, he was called to his present position at Cambridge.

“Professor Fosbroke succeeds the Rev. Dr. Wilfred L. Robbins and insures a continuation of the teaching which prevailed in the seminary under Dean Robbins, who was a high church leader until illness compelled him to retire early this year.”

Occupation: Stationer.

Address: (business) 11 Cliff St., New York, N. Y.; (home) 78 West 85th St., New York, N. Y.

I HAVE to amend the remark I made about "sticking" in the last Class Report, for in April, 1913, I left the Carter's Ink Co., and started a stationery and printing business of my own. Since then, this infant has so fully occupied my time that romance and adventure have passed me by and left me flat as regards auto-biographical material.

DURING the last five years I have continued to practise law. At the same time I have taken a deep interest, both in politics and in social problems. I am a director of the Chicago-Winfield Tuberculosis Sanatorium, The Young Men's Associated Jewish Charities, and the Legal Aid Society. About three years ago I was instrumental in organizing the forces in the City of Chicago interested in housing in one joint body, and I became the secretary of the Chicago Housing Association — the organization that undertook to carry on this work. I am still a director of that body. I am also secretary and director of the American Symphony Orchestra. I am a director of the City Club of Chicago and director and vice-president of Book and Play Club, and director or trustee of various peace and anti-militaristic organizations.

I am a director and member of the executive committee of the Infants Hospital; vice-president of the Elizabeth Peabody House; treasurer of the Boston Provident Association, and trustee of the Boston Lying-in Hospital.

I still consider golf a good game and any visiting members of the Class to Boston can find a game if they will call at 53 State Street.

Parents: Alfred Hussey, Emily Augusta (Atwater) Gardner.

School: St. Paul's School, Garden City, N. Y.

Years in College: 1893-97.

I HAVE been practising law in New York City and Nassau County, Long Island, since 1899.

I took an increased active interest in Democratic politics in New York State in 1912. At the primaries in 1914 I was elected Democratic State Committeeman from Nassau County for a term of two years. In 1916 I was re-elected State Committeeman to hold office until the fall of 1918. On November 1, 1916, I was appointed Chief Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the First Collection District, State of New York, which comprises the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens, and Richmond of the City of New York and the Counties of Nassau and Suffolk.

Occupation: Assistant Prof. of Mathematics, Union College.

Address: (business) Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.; (home) 2 Rosa Road, Schenectady, N. Y.

MUCH to my regret I have neither material nor intellectual trophies to lay at the feet of Fair Harvard. This is the tenth year in which I have been teaching mathematics in Union College. Strange to relate I have not discovered any marvelous method by which the mathematical faculties of the college youth can be developed without work.

In 1913 I built a house on a beautiful site overlooking the Mohawk. "For sundry weighty reasons," which those of my classmates who know something of the wintry blasts in this locality, can appreciate, we call the home "Mudjekeewis." I was my own architect and contractor, hence gained some valuable experience.

As far as my duties permit I am doing graduate work along the lines of Electrical Science, History, and History and Philosophy of Education. I am a member of The American Association for the Advancement of Science, The American Mathematical Society, and Sigma Xi.

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON, Jr.

Born at Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 5, 1874.

Parents: William Lloyd, Ellen (Wright) Garrison.

School: Hopkinson's School, Boston, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-96.

Degree: A.B.

Married: Edith Stephenson, March 16, 1901, Newton Center, Mass.

Children: William Lloyd, 3rd., Jan. 28, 1902; Claire, May 21, 1903; David, Sept. 1, 1906; John Bright, Feb. 14, 1909; Faith, Dec. 21, 1910; Edith, Nov. 9, 1913.

Occupation: Investment Banker.

Address: (business) 60 State St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 65 Sterling St., West Newton, Mass.

SINCE the publication of the last Report, I have continued in the bond business. On April 4, 1916, the firm of Perry, Coffin & Burr, of which I was a member, was dissolved. At that time, Coffin & Burr, Incorporated, hoisted its flag at the old stand, and thus far has been experimenting with some success in the modern plan of profit-sharing, through the device of a stock corporation.

One more little girl now adorns the family circle, but, even so, my effort to outdistance Hallowell as a paterfamilias has been unavailing.

What fragments of leisure I can grasp are devoted to attempts at writing and speaking on taxation, free trade, suffrage and kindred social reforms, the very names of which are anathema to the orthodox Harvard alumnus.

When in 1922 the Class assembles for its Twenty-Fifth Reunion, let us hope that those of us who survive the interval may be meeting at the threshold of a new era dedicated to peace, progress and international co-operation.

JOHN PATRICK GATELY

I AM president of the Gately Credit Clothing Company, operating a chain of stores, with headquarters at 501 Mercantile Bank Building, St. Louis, Mo.

My two years as a special student in the class of Harvard, '97, were all golden days — none gray; from the hasty breakfast (and frugal) at the Oak Grove Dairy Lunch, to the quiet night repast (hot dog and coffee) at the lunch car — a cathedral-like van that stood beneath the Co-operative store — all was bliss; those were the happy days.

Such was my last report. To this I can but add "Happily married."

JOHN RODNEY GAUSE

THE last five years have passed quite uneventfully for me other than that I have married. My business life has been busily engaged in engineering and manufacturing and I am still engaged in that pursuit.

† Ernest Lewis Gay

Born at Boston, Mass., Dec. 14, 1874.

Parents: George Henry, Elizabeth Greenough (Lewis) Gay.

School: Boston Latin School.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Unmarried.

Died: Nov. 25, 1916.

ERNEST LEWIS GAY, the son of George Henry and Elizabeth Greenough (Lewis) Gay, was born at Boston, Dec. 14, 1874. He prepared for College at the Boston Latin School, entered Harvard in the fall of 1893, and received the degree of A.B. in June, 1897. In his College work he specialized in English, French, and history, showing early his definite tendency toward literature and the languages. Both at school and in College he played football actively, being an exceptionally effective end rush for a man of his weight and stature.

After graduation he devoted some tentative months to the study of the law, and subsequently entered business for a short time, but in 1900 he found the kind of work which was to absorb him thenceforward when he entered the New York State Library School. He was busy in the Harvard College Library from 1902 to 1904, and then received a temporary appointment as assistant librarian of the library of the Weather Bureau in Washington, D. C., where he remained until 1908. His mother's death in 1907 resulted in his return to Boston in due course, and in 1910 he became one of the incorporators, and naturally the librarian, of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities.

His vacations afforded opportunities for four visits to England, where he devoted part of his time to bibliographical work at the British Museum. John Gay, who wrote "The Beggar's Opera" in 1742, was his specialty. He had practically all the editions of this work, including a number not in the British Museum. The more valuable he kept in safe deposit vaults, but he had more than 100 copies in his rooms at 317 Marlboro Street, Boston, where he could use them in compiling his long projected bibliography of "The Beggar's Opera." Though he was better equipped for the task probably than any one else, he allowed it to remain his dream for many years, always deferring publication until he should have completed his researches. In connection with this work, he collected hundreds of ballad operas, the dramatic form which it introduced into England, and had standing orders with London and continental dealers to ship any copies he lacked.

Like his brother, the late Frederick Lewis Gay, '78, he made many gifts to the Harvard Library, enriching its department of ballad operas beyond any other collection in America.

He was a member of the American Historical Association, the Bibliographical Society of America, New England Historic Genealogical Society, Essex Book and Print Club, Club of Odd Volumes, Society of Colonial Wars, University Club of Boston of which he was librarian, and Harvard Club of New York. Despite his intense love of books and research his attitude never suggested the self-absorbed recluse. On the contrary, his genial spontaneity and capacity for happy companionship were his instinctive characteristics. Gay never married, and in his later years had premonitions of organic weakness which caused him to live very quietly and carefully. In the fall of 1916 his passion for football took him to New Haven, and the unwonted excitement and exertion of the day resulted in his death from heart trouble, as he was returning to Boston on the special train.

Address: Y. M. C. A., Osaka, Japan; American Office: 124 E. 28th St., New York, N. Y.; (home) Sumiyoshi, near Kobe, Japan.

I AM still in Osaka, which has been my headquarters for nearly sixteen years. In 1912 I visited the States and in the summer of 1916 ran over to the Pan-American and to the meeting of the Harvard Clubs in San Francisco. My work is with the Young Men's Christian Association in Osaka, a city of a million and a half people. The regular members of my Association number over 1000. In educational classes last year 2200 were enrolled. The budget for current expenses this year runs over $10,000 and we have a strong staff of twelve Japanese secretaries and assistants, besides more than thirty foreign and Japanese teachers giving part time.

On the side, I have helped to arouse interest in playgrounds, so that Osaka has the finest municipal play park in the Empire, with plans for opening seven others in the near future. Since April, 1916, I have been in the thick of a real fight, co-operating with the two big vernacular newspapers, a group of politicians, and a Christian organization, in trying to prevent the Prefectural Government from opening a new licensed prostitute quarter. Zest was added by the fact that the Governor, whom we attacked, is a Yale man.

We are now in the midst of a canvass on both sides of the Pacific, aiming to raise $250,000 for a four-story Y.M.C.A. building, which will cover about half an acre.

An occasional Harvard man stops off to see us, but we should like more of them.

On January 1, 1914, having secured a controlling interest in the Goodman & Dickerson Company, the corporation publishing the paper, I became managing editor and am having lots of fun in the tremendously difficult problem of making a denominational newspaper pay financially as well as religiously. I am president and treasurer of the Goodman & Dickerson Company. In addition to editorial duties I am called upon to supply pulpits and deliver addresses in many parts of the country. In March, 1914, I fulfilled an appointment as special lecturer in pastoral theology at Colgate Theological Seminary, Hamilton, N. Y. I conducted the first examination for admission to Harvard ever given at Honolulu.

In 1907 I returned to Boston, going with my brother, Thomas, into the manufacture of men's neckwear, under the trade name Standard Neckwear Company. We are located in Boston at 41 Kingston Street, and in New York City at 41 Union Square, West. The Standard Neckwear Company is a corporation, formed under the laws of the state of New York. IMMEDIATELY after graduation I entered the Harvard Law School, and graduated with an LL.B. degree in 1900. Since July 1, 1900, I have practised law in Jamestown, N. Y. In August, 1902, I was elected a member of the Board of Education, Jamestown, and am now secretary of the board. I "stumped" western New York for the Republican state ticket in the fall of 1902. Married: Pauline Pumpelly, March 16, 1903, Middletown, R. I., died May 27, 1911.

Married: Mary Livingston Hinsdale, Pittsfield, Mass., June 10, 1914.

Occupation: Minister.

Address: (business) First Church, Pittsfield, Mass.; (home) 54 Wendell Ave., Pittsfield, Mass.

EARLY in 1912, I was called to the First Church of Christ (Congregational) in Pittsfield, of which the Pilgrim Memorial Church, which I served from 1903 to 1909, was an offshoot. The prospect of renewing acquaintance with my former parishioners, and of keeping up a quasi-grandfatherly relationship with them, combined with other considerations to make me glad to return from Lowell to Pittsfield; and I was duly installed by an ecclesiastical council on June 27, 1912.

This city has been since 1871 the county seat of Berkshire, and for the past fifteen years has grown rapidly — rather too rapidly for its own good — chiefly on account of the development of the works of the General Electric Company, now employing more than 7000 persons. My church was organized in 1764, three years after the incorporation of the town; so that I have had the pleasure of helping in the celebration of its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary. Though a somewhat conservative old parish in many ways, it has an exceptionally fine group of younger men, whose devotion to the church and the higher interests of the community is quite as strong as, if not stronger than, that of their fathers.

Degree: A.B.

Unmarried.

Died March 4, 1915, Middletown, N. Y.

HENRY SEAVEY HACKETT, the son of George Jewett and Anna (Seavey) Hackett, was born at Chicago, Ill., June 20, 1875. He prepared for college at the Berkeley School, New York City, entered Harvard in the fall of '93, and received his A.B. degree in regular course.

Hackett was the recipient of a John Harvard scholarship, his inclination in his studies being in the direction of English and philosophy. Unfortunately he overworked with the result that a few years after graduation his mind gave way, and steadily his bodily health diminished until the end came.

Although Hackett was handicapped by lameness, and was somewhat delicate during his College years, it seemed sheer tragedy that the consummation of his effort should prove to be merely a series of hopeless years in confinement before the dawn of the great Commencement.

Occupation: Banker.

Address: (business) 44 State St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Brush Hill Road, Readville, Mass.

IN the fall of '97 I began work as a clerk in the National Bank of Commerce, Boston, and about eight months later went with the banking firm of Vermilye and Company, Boston, as a bond salesman. Leaving there in 1900 I entered Lee, Higginson and Company, becoming a partner in 1906. I am still on the job at 44 State Street.

My principal interest, outside of business, during the last five years has been in Milton Academy, of which I am Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees. The school sends about 20 to 25 boys yearly to Harvard. I should like to see more sons of '97 men enrolled in its classes.

I have recently been elected a trustee of the Calhoun Colored School, Calhoun, Alabama, a colored school doing a vast amount of good in its community, and which, like most institutions of its kind, is in need of more money.

CHARLES HENRY HARDWICK

Born at Quincy, Mass., Oct. 4, 1875.

School: C. L. Rideoute School, Boston, Mass.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Lawyer, granite merchant, real estate.

Address: 104 Revere Road, Quincy, Mass.

THE granite business engaged my attention after college was finished, for I was naturally interested in quarrying, having many a time gone as a small boy with my father and grandfather to the quarries, where they produced the famous Quincy granite, and witnessed with keen enjoyment the various processes of producing, cutting, and polishing. These quarries had been in our family many years, and my father wished me, his oldest son, to succeed him in the business. My inclination was to a career as a lawyer. We compromised on business and law. After four years of business life I entered the Boston University

Law School, in 1901, graduating in 1904, with the degrees LL.B., J.B., summa cum laude, and J.M.

During 1903 and 1904, as a member of the Quincy City Council, I tried to put my college training to some practical use.

In the summer of 1904 I visited many places of note in this country, Canada, and the Hawaiian Islands, among them being our beautiful Yellowstone National Park, the Rockies, the Canadian National Park, the Sierras, Lake Louise, the volcanoes of Haleakala—the largest in the world—Kilauea and Mauna Loa.

From 1904 until the death of my father, in 1910, I practised law in Boston and Quincy. Since 1910 I have been carrying on my father's granite business, and also practising law.

In the summer of 1912 I visited Europe.

I am a member of the 999th Artillery Association, the Royal Arcanum, and the Knights of Pythias.

Harrington is still practising law in Charlestown, Mass., and presumably has nothing to add to the above account. He has for many years taken an active part in politics in his district.

HE is still practising law in Denver, Colo., and filling the office of attorney for the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company.

He adds nothing to last report. There he said: "When asked advice about sending boys to college I have in most instances advised Yale; when the boy in the case has been of considerable value I have advised Harvard. Opinion is that the University needs better men rather than more men. I dislike thoroughly the proposals "to advertise the college" in any way, although tickled by this frank admission that the southern and western parts of the United States are inhabited—usefully inhabited. Some of the more useful of the young ones will, if I can accomplish it, go to Cambridge and get their feet wet every time they cross the yard in the southeast."

HAVING made what appears to me an adequate statement in the Fourth Report I have little to add, no material change of views to record. I am still teaching in the same position, living now on a farm about three miles from the College buildings, getting a good deal of pleasure and a very little profit from my spare hours and vacations spent upon it. My son is now enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, with the rank of Corporal, and I hope to see him survive the war and become a Harvard Graduate.

He prepared for college at the Boston Latin School, entered Harvard in the fall of '93, and received his A.B. degree in regular course. Occupation: Scientific Medicine.

Address: (business) Room 1214, 40 Court St., Boston, Mass.

JUST now (April, 1917) I have landed in Boston, as director of the Judge Baker Foundation — a memorial to Harvey H. Baker, formerly judge of the Juvenile Court. This foundation is undertaking the extension here in New England of the work which we began for courts in Chicago some eight years ago.

My history during the last five years has been simply that of attempting to further the scientific and humanitarian interests connected with this application of medicine and psychology to the study of conduct and other problems of individuals who are poorly adjusted in life. As the result of our researches, I have perpetrated four books upon an indulgent public. It has been highly gratifying to have some fifteen cities in this country now undertaking this type of common-sense attempt at better human adjustments.

This may all seem serious enough, but there is lots of good fun in it and in my history up to date ought to be included the main fact that I have been doing pretty much what I really wanted to do.

SOMEbody used to write a line a day, but Mr. Garrison wants a paragraph in five years. That seems easy until we try it and then the chasm yawns, for nothing seems quite worthy of mention in a Harvard Class Report. If I had only gone to the war and been killed it would have been easy for somebody else to have said so, but I didn't. On the contrary, I am still pastor of the Second Congregational Church in Westfield, Mass., endeavoring to preach the gospel of preparedness with some hope of seeing it put into practise both spiritually and politically. Consistently with this spirit my son served on the border the past summer as a National Guardsman.

Socially I am a member of the local Get Together Club, and of the Connecticut Valley Theological and Congregational Clubs. In the last I happen now to be Vice-President.

Thus far I have been able to escape the tempestuous political arena but was surprised a few days ago that one of the municipal fathers out of revenge had presented my name to the Republican Town Committee for the office of Selectman. However, it is my hope that a re-affirmation of the wisdom of our national constitution in the separation of church and state may save me from such a disaster.

WILLIAM ABERNETHY HOLT

Occupation: Merchant.

Address: (business) 142 Main St., New London, Conn.; (home) 10 Whittlesey St., New London, Conn.

THE last Class Report left me busy with Mercantile Associations and the Fire Department. I have been fairly busy ever since. At the end of my term as president of the New London Business Men's Association, I served for several years on the Board of Directors and am now a humble member of its successor, the New London Chamber of Commerce.

The boys of Hose 7 could not get speed enough out of our fire horses (Engine 1, with its big auto pumper, began to make our blacks look slow) so, failing an appropriation, we built an up-to-date auto combination, and came back into our own. For three years, I bossed the job, making speeches "on behalf of the visiting firemen, etc.," and using speech of another character at fires. I helped form the Officer's Association of the local department, was its Secretary and Treasurer and established a Relief Fund. Fire Duty, however, has a tendency to provoke unrest in the home when one turns out at 3.00 A.M. in response to the alarm. Therefore, I am no longer foreman. As a course in hydraulics, applied chemistry, combustion, building laws, fire prevention, bull, etc., the fire department has something on Harvard.

In 1912, I was elected a member of the local Board of Education, on which I served three years. As I had no schoolhouses to build, I retained my reputation. Very interesting as a course in pedagogy and pedagogs.

Following the star of Woodrow Wilson, with the majority of the electors of New London, I found myself elected Representative to the Connecticut General Assembly, a job which I am now trying to hold down.

I am also still in the grocery business.

HENRY VINCENT HUBBARD

Born at Taunton, Mass., Aug. 22, 1875.

Parents: Charles Thacher, Clara Isabel (Reed) Hubbard.

School: Taunton High School, Taunton, Mass.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Landscape architect and teacher.

Address: (business) 101 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Church Green, Taunton, Mass.

IN 1911 I was appointed assistant professor of landscape architecture at Harvard. I am treasurer of the American Society of Landscape Architects.

In October, 1910, with C. D. Lay and R. Wheelwright, I started the publication of a technical magazine, Landscape Architecture, which has been much bother but more fun, and is at this writing in a solvent state.

My vacations have, with the exception of one summer in Europe in study with F. L. Olmsted, and one in Italy with B. W. Pond, been spent as far from the nearest settlement as possible, in Maine, Canada, Newfoundland, and California, in an attempt to settle the question as to whether a mule or a canoe is the most effective all-round mode of conveyance. My vote is for the canoe.

I am at this time (March, 1917) writing a text-book on Landscape Architecture, with Miss Theodora Kimball, librarian of the Harvard School of Landscape Architecture. We hope to publish this by June. Otherwise, for the last five years I have been, as it were, consolidating positions previously occupied, and have nothing further to report.

HOWARD ROBARD HUGHES

Born at Lancaster, Mo., Sept. 9, 1869.

Parents: Felix Moner, Jean (Summerlin) Hughes.

School: Tutor.

Years in College: 1893-95.

Married: Allene Gano, June 24, 1904, Dallas, Tex.

Children: Howard Robard, Jr., Dec. 24, 1906.

Occupation: Manufacturer of Hughes patent rotary rock bit.

Address: (business) Sharp & Hughes, Second and Girard Sts., Houston, Tex.; (home) 203 Pranard Ave., Houston, Tex.

DID not reply. Data and story taken from last report. He attended the Law School of Iowa State University, but too impatient to await the course of graduation, he passed the examination before the Supreme Court of Iowa and began the practise of law.

Then he sought his fortune in Colorado mining for low-grade silver for two years, then two years more sinking shafts, driving drifts, and drilling holes in the zinc fields of Indian Territory. In January, 1901, the great Lucas Oil Well came in at Spindle Top, near Beaumont, Texas.

He wrote five years ago: "I turned greaser and sank into the thick of it. Rough-neck, owner, disowner, promoter, capitalist, and (mark) — with each I can claim kin, for I have stood in the steps of each. Though I never wrote a book, I furnished the local color for some of the stories in the Saturday Evening Post by my brother, Rupert Hughes. I never held a public office, except that of deputy sheriff and postmaster at Oil City, La. Therein I lost my religion. In the thick of the fight I was successful one year, married, and traveled through England, Germany, and France, but returned again to the oil game. In my oil field experience I had made a close study of oil machinery and appliances then in use.

“ In this gulf section we make use almost exclusively of the rotary system, instead of cable tools, for drilling. Lengths of drill pipe replace the rope and cable tool of the older fields. The chief drawback to the rotary system was its inability to drill with reasonable speed rock strata, interbedded with caving formation. From this need I invented a drilling cone bit, in the manufacture of which all my efforts are now centered. Our firm name is Sharp and Hughes.”

My family is as it was five years ago, neither larger nor smaller. My life during this period has been a very busy one, fairly successful, but otherwise uneventful.

HENRY BARRETT HUNTINGTON

Born at Malden, Mass., Jan. 17, 1875.

Parents: George Putnam, Lilly Saint Agnan (Barrett) Huntington.

School: St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Occupation: Teacher.

Address: (business) Brown University, Providence, R. I.; (home) 23 John St., Providence, R. I.

THE years since our Fourth Report appeared have been for me generally uneventful. The cares and pleasures of a young family and increasing responsibilities on the faculty of a college which is continually increasing in activity have fully occupied my time and energy. During the academic years 1913-15 I held a temporary appointment at Wellesley College, journeying thither once a week to conduct a very interesting and stimulating course in debating for students of that institution. My work at Brown has become increasingly of an administrative character and my teaching is limited pretty closely to argumentative composition, both oral and written. Perhaps it is owing to the nature of the subjects naturally discussed in such courses since 1914 that my mind has been constantly on the war and its problems, and my spirits depressed and saddened by the endless destruction, material, physical, and moral, that is taking place. In spite of the cheer that comes from contemplating the progress of our glorious class, the world seems a less desirable abiding place than it did in 1912.

Occupation: Vice-President, railroads.

THERE is little to add to the last report. I was a vice-president of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company and of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company from 1908 to 1915, and since March, 1915, have been a vice-president and assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of these Companies. During the past five years I have served as a director of the Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, the Texas & Pacific, and the Western Pacific Railway Companies, and also as a director of the Western Coal & Mining Company of St. Louis. Recently I have become interested in the New Jersey Life Insurance Company, whose home office is in the Firemen's Building, Board and Market Streets, Newark, New Jersey, and I am acting as a director and member of the Executive Committee of that Company.

† John Collins Hurley

Born at Fall River, Mass., Nov. 2, 1875.

Parents: Patrick Joseph, Margaret (Collins) Hurley.

School: B. M. C. Durfee High School, Fall River.

Years in College: 1893-94.

Unmarried.

Died: May 22, 1915, at Sharon, Mass.

JOHAN COLLINS HURLEY, the son of Patrick Joseph and Margaret (Collins) Hurley, was born at Fall River, Mass., November 2, 1875. His death occurred at Sharon, Mass., May 22, 1915.

"Few of our classmates will recall the shy, slender figure of John Hurley, for it was our misfortune that he was permitted to be associated in College with us but a few weeks. He was always of frail physique, and the strain of preparation for College proved too much for him. Only a short time after the opening of College he had to yield to an attack of nervous prostration which slowly sapped his remaining vitality, and which left him in a weakened condition, from which he never fully recovered. He was unable to take up his College work again or to engage for any length of time in a regular occupation, but was forced to pass his remaining years in a wearisome pursuit of health. His last years were spent in the open on a farm in Sharon, but even this failed to bring invigoration.

"Those of us who grew up with him remember most clearly his subtle sense of humor, which found expression in all his words and acts. Without this he could hardly have struggled so long with his later burdens. He was an excellent student with a keen appreciation of the beautiful. He was devoted to music from boyhood and became a skilled performer on the violin. In his later years he gave much time to astronomy. He was most loyal to his friends, and although unable to join us in our reunions, his interest in all the activities of our College continued to the last."

SINCE the last Report my life has been that of a busy physician, with few events of striking import. Perhaps the most important is that of the birth of my three sons — Albert Willard in August, 1912, and the twins on Dec. 25, 1916.

ADDS nothing to his last report. There he said: "I went to Harvard in 1896 to learn certain things! An entirely improper thing for a candidate for A.B. to do, I confess, but you see I had an A.B. from Boston University. I was thirty-three years of age, had a family to support, and had really begun to discover my ignorance, which may palliate, if not justify, my conduct. I was essentially a graduate student both years I was there (though only the second led to the A.M.), also, from the class point of view, a grind! I had pranced some as a member of a class too, but that was back in the days when '97 was on a milk diet.

† Robert Darrah Jenks

Born at Enterprise, Fla., March 1, 1875.

Parents: William Furness, Helen Carnan (Towne) Jenks.

School: Penn Charter, Philadelphia, Pa.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degrees: A.B.; LL.B. 1901 (Univ. of Penn.).

Married: Maud Lowrey, June 20, 1914, at Philadelphia, Pa.

Died: Jan. 22, 1917, at Philadelphia, Pa.

ROBERT DARRAH JENKS was born at Enterprise, Florida, on March 1, 1875, the son of William Furness and Helen Carnan (Towne) Jenks. He died of pneumonia, after a brief illness, on January 22, 1917, at his home in Philadelphia. He prepared for College at the Penn Charter School, Philadelphia, entered Harvard in the fall of 1893, and graduated in due course with the class of '97. His interest in railroad transportation led him to serve for a year in the freight department of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway. Then taking up the study of law, he graduated from the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania in 1901. He married, June 20, 1914, Maud Lowrey of Philadelphia.

Throughout the years we knew him, his mind was constantly occupied with thought of the public welfare. Wise to recognize the essential values and defects of partisanship, and willing to be allied to a party, and at the same time judicial enough to see virtue in the opposed partisanship of another, he combined the enthusiasm, moderation and ability for work necessary for a successful reformer. He was as zealous in the practical work of winning a case in Philadelphia to establish the status of letter carriers, as he was in the more far-reaching task of drafting a model civil service law which might become the standard for uniformity in the several States.

His legal career naturally tended to transportation problems. The child's interest in railroads grew to knowledge, both practical and theoretical, of many intricate aspects of transportation. At his death he was at work on one of many cases he had supported before the Inter-State Commerce Commission. The attitude in which he approached the cases entrusted to him was one of scrupulous fairness to both the railroads and the shippers; for to him the fundamental points at issue were far more important than the commercial interests immediately involved. He made himself an expert in railroad rates and became one of the foremost authorities in his chosen field. He had already won professional standing of a high order, with promise of wide public recognition of his abilities.

He gave his services to the public by holding such positions as: Trustee of the Penn School in South Carolina, 1901-1911; member of the Philadelphia Committee of Seventy; Secretary of the Pennsylvania Civil Service Reform Association; and from 1912-1915, Chairman of the Council of the National Civil Service Reform League.

But to his friends he was more than the public-spirited citizen, more than the lawyer whose professional ideals were untainted by commercialism. To us he was also the true and loyal comrade whom we loved. His unpretentious modesty did not prevent an increasing appreciation of his sturdy qualities. He bound his friends to him with unforgettable ties by his cheerful courage and his loyalty to obligation. The ideals which moved him to public service commanded no less his private life, making him a devoted husband, son and brother.

This notice of Robert Jenks is sent to his friends by five of his classmates, in token of their affection for him: Charles D. Drew, Roland B. Dixon, Henry Wilder Foote, Sinclair Kennedy, James Duncan Phillips.

Trained with '97 the three years he was in College, so is not in the Class Record under false pretenses! He wrote five years ago: "I've sold a right smart jag of alfalfa ($20 at the barn) and a couple of barrels of Baldwins out of the cellar and hope to be with you in June; that is, if I can get the cultivating done and the clover doesn't need cutting."

He went into the newspaper game with the old Philadelphia Times. Later he was assistant city editor on the Philadelphia North American for a few years, and finally he landed in the restaurant business, where, to use his own words, "I'm still there in spite of 'Doc' Wiley and the pure food laws."

I HAVE very little to add to my biography except that the years that have intervened since the Fourth Report have been filled with hard and interesting work, and the progress in all things in life I firmly believe has been upward.

My daily work is the production of automatic music rolls for the pipe-organ. For over a year I have been associated with the Ernest M. Skinner Co., of Boston, builders of church and house organs. Our company produces two distinct types of house organs, for which I have to arrange and produce two kinds of music. For the sake of this record I will state that one type of music roll is for the organ of two manuals and pedals, which work is not of excessive difficulty, while the other is for the Orchestrator, a problem of infinite detail and difficulty, as the solo capacity is equal to an organ of five manuals and pedals. The Orchestrator contains practically all the voices of the orchestra with each voice in a separate swell-box, so that each is under perfect control from the paper roll. These swell-boxes are from eight to ten in number according to the size of the organ. This type of organ, and of automatic mechanism, and roll, are the only ones of their kind in the world, and for the playing of great orchestral compositions the Orchestrator has no equal as it can play six solo voices, if necessary, each voice controlled individually in its power, and the piano also, so that a piano concerto with orchestral accompaniment can be performed with all effects of phrasing, light, shade and color.

Such exacting work as this gives but little time for other things, but in spare moments I still collect antiques and books and write music. Two collaborations with Mr. Gustave Strube have been given and repeated by the Boston Symphony Orchestra during the last five years, and songs, pieces for the organ, string quartets and other compositions for various instruments have been performed in Boston, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and in Europe.

IT is pleasant to be able to report that I am at last in America, being at the present moment settled in Cambridge. I should have been at home two years ago, but at the outbreak of the war I volunteered to help the few elderly physicians who were left to care for the civil population in the scattered villages of that part of France in which I had been living. I worked also in the MacMorris' Convalescent hospital and for many months distributed clothes and money sent from America. When my services were no longer needed I went to the neighborhood of Bordeaux to await a propitious moment for crossing the Atlantic.

Address: (business) 1019 Citizens Bldg., Cleveland, O.; (home) 9808 Parmelee Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

I AM still acting as manufacturer's agent in the territory of Ohio and Indiana for several large industries, and have specialized in metallurgical lines, particularly the heat treatment of metals and apparatus for doing this work. I have had reasonably good success here since 1903 when I first opened my office.

While passing through the years 1910-13, I took up the study of law evenings and completed a course in the Cleveland Law School, a part of Baldwin University, obtaining a degree of LL.B. in 1913.

I have come to the conclusion that it is best for a man, while a student, to get all the education he can, while he has the opportunity; as one finds many times, that what he needs the most is what he knows the least about.

Address: (business) Kimball Bldg., Boston, Mass.; (home) 15 Hathorn St., Somerville, Mass.

I HAVE continued practising law independently, with an office in the Kimball Building, Boston. I have already recorded that I became a Mason after leaving college, and that I served as treasurer of the Republican City Committee of Somerville, and as a member of the school board.

I have also been a member of the Massachusetts Legislature and a member of the board of trustees of the Somerville Institution for Savings.

My experiences and view covering the last five years of my career are neither of them of such an unusual character that they warrant any recital in a report of this character.

FRANK ALEXANDER KENNEDY

Born at Malden, Mass., Nov. 12, 1875.

Occupation: Teacher.

Address: (business) Girls' High School, Boston, Mass.; (home) 43 Maxfield St., West Roxbury, Mass.

I AM a plain teacher of less than moderate means, of unadventurous life, thoroughly interested in my profession. I envy those who have seen more of the world and admire those who have done things; I take a great deal of pleasure and pride in reading about them in our reports.

For many years I have helped prepare boys and girls for college, and have again and again been chagrined to see bright students turn aside from Harvard to the smaller college for the sake of the "college life" — not necessarily the gay life of the prankist, but that close intimacy with a considerable body of classmates, which, for the lad of little means is, to say the least, difficult to obtain.

Since the last report, I have become a member of the Highland Club of West Roxbury, of the Unitarian Club of West Roxbury (Secretary, 1915–16, President, 1916–17), and of the Canadian Club of Boston. Nothing of importance has happened within the last five years.

SINCLAIR KENNEDY

Born at Roxbury, Mass., March 12, 1875.

Parents: George Golding, Harriet White (Harris) Kennedy.

School: Hopkinson's School, Boston.

Years in College: 1893–97.

Degrees: A.B.; LL.B. 1906.

Married: Rae Baldwin, Sept. 29, 1910, Edinburgh, Scotland.

Occupation: Student.

Address: 1080 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass.

THE First, Second, and Third Reports bring my chronology up to 1907. From that year I take up my story, as the items in the Fourth Report were not compiled by me.

Some of my time has been spent in travel; two months of 1908, the Newfoundland Labrador; ten months of 1909, Spain, France, Italy, Austria, Switzerland, and thence via Vladivostock to Yokohama and San Francisco, five months of 1910, British Isles and Panama Canal Zone; twenty-three months of 1911–13, including three months in the South Seas (Society, Leeward, Austral, and Paumotu Groups) of which 47 days was by auxiliary schooner some 1800 miles, five months in New Zealand, several weeks being spent in camping and canoeing, two months in Australian East Coast between Hobart and Townsville, thence via Port Moresby to Java, Siam, Federated Malay States, Ceylon, and Mauritius, two months in the Union of South Africa and one month each in Switzerland and London; two and one half months of 1914, July, August, and September, in England and Ireland.

My interest now centers more definitely than ever before in the study of economic sociology. This has been the spectacles worn during my travels ever since leaving college. Since our marriage on September 29, 1910, Mrs. Kennedy has accompanied me in travel and study. Together we have written one book — "The Pan-Angles: a Consideration of the Federation of the Seven English-speaking Nations."

This book advocates a common government for the English speaking, self-governing whites of the world, as the best available method of protecting such persons against the encroachments of the rest of the world. From 1914 I have spoken and written in favor of American entrance into the war on the side of the Entente Allies.

For the purpose of showing my belief in compulsory training and service, I attended the "business men's" camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., in August, 1915 and in June, 1916. During the intervening winter, I spoke on "The Plattsburg Idea" to audiences aggregating 4000.

Degree: A.B. 1899.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Agriculture.

Address: Brookdale, Cal. (was Rimrock Ranch, Maryland, Wash.).

THE following extracts were taken from a letter written to Arthur Adams, Secretary of '99, on April 17, 1914, "In camp near Brookdale, California." Kidder said:

"My case is not quite that of a former '97 man who simply slipped a couple of cogs in getting his degree, for though I started at the same time with the Class of '97, it was as a special; after working through the requirements, I became a candidate for a degree with the Class of '99, and I have never been rated academically with any other class. But socially I have been a member rather of '97, as I entered College and joined clubs with that crowd, and with them have had my personal affiliations.

"These things seem to be determined largely by the first two or three years in College. When I finally became a candidate for a degree with '99, I was already associated with '97 — was then living at home, studying a good deal; and with '99 as such, I'm sorry to say, I had no association at all.

"I would not have you think for a moment that I fail to appreciate the hospitable readiness to give a virtual outsider a place in the Class Report. But you will doubtless agree that what gives the significance and interest to these records is the element of personal associations and affiliations rather than the rating in the College Catalogue. In that light, I really am an outsider in '99, and belong, if anywhere, in '97.

I don't know in what form the matter in the Class Report is published, but if the men's records appear alphabetically, so that it is not desirable to leave gaps or omissions, wouldn't it be in order to put a note opposite my name to the effect that I had been affiliated as a special with '97?"

These three jobs keep me so busy that I hardly have time to explore the open country, a sport which I still love. Nevertheless I have walked across Vermont three times when opportunity offered, and the Green Mountain State is a grand place for "hikes." DURING the last five years I have continued practising law in New York City and have become a partner in the firm of Hunt, Hill & Betts, with which I was previously associated. I have specialized largely in maritime law, particularly since the outbreak of the war. In the winter 1915–16 I was in Holland and Italy in charge of litigation as to certain Dutch ships chartered by an American client which were held up in Genoa. During the summer and fall of 1917 I was on the Texas border as a private in Squadron A, in which I had re-enlisted. It has been said (I think with some truth) that in the part of Texas where we were encamped one can look farther and see less than anywhere else in the world. There isn't even a mirage; but the sunrises, which we had a good opportunity to observe, were O. K. The military experience gained would be classed at about C. minus on the Harvard schedule of marking.

In October of the following year I took up the study of Osteopathy, in the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, having decided from the advice of business friends (?) and my own conclusions, that I had been born to be a doctor, more than a business man. (It remains to be seen, just how much more.)

I was graduated in June, 1916, with the degree of Doctor of Osteopathy, and am now studying medicine in the Middlesex College of Medicine and Surgery.

† Frederick Adams Laws

Born at Bedford, Mass., April 4, 1876.

Parents: Hiram, Mary Elizabeth (Dutton) Laws.

School: Concord High School, Concord, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Unmarried.

Died: Dec. 7, 1912, New York, N. Y.

FREDERICK ADAMS LAWS, the son of Hiram and Mary Elizabeth (Dutton) Laws, was born at Bedford, Mass., April 4, 1876. He entered College from the Concord High School, receiving his A.B. in regular course in the spring of '97. After graduation he entered the employ of James C. Freeman, real estate and insurance broker, 55 Kilby Street, Boston. He later became connected with the foreign exchange department of the American Express Company at 43 Franklin Street, Boston. From this position he went to Cambridge, where he served for eight years as Superintendent of the Harvard Co-operative Society, resigning in July, 1911, to go to work for the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company in Boston. Previously he had declined an invitation to reorganize and manage the Filene Department Store in Boston. In his new position with the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company he became assistant to the treasurer. Subsequently he was placed in charge of the company's credit department of its New York selling agency. On the day following Thanksgiving, 1912, he was then ill with sore throat which made necessary an operation for peritonsillar abscess. He was making hopeful progress toward recovery when he suffered a relapse, passing away on the morning of December seventh, so quietly that the nurse supposed him to be sleeping.

Laws approached his college work with the quiet seriousness which usually marks the man who is reducing his college expenses to a minimum, and working during vacation periods. The courses he selected indicated a determination to obtain a liberal academic education. English was his favorite study, as exemplified by his contributions to the Advocate. His fondness for drawing found expression in the Lampoon and in his designs for some of the Class Day tickets.

During his business years in Cambridge he not only proved himself a capable business man, but took a civic interest in local affairs. He served on several committees of the Colonial Club; was one of the organizers, and served as Secretary of the Harvard Square Business Men's Association; was Secretary of the Economy Club for a year, and was a member of the governing board of the Under Forty division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. He served in the Massachusetts Militia for several years, as a member of Battery A, Field Artillery of Boston, being Quartermaster Sergeant during the last two years of his service. He was actively interested in the work of the Graduate School of Business Administration which he attended, expressing his admiration for Dean Gay's leadership in that new field.

Laws was essentially a man of character, modest and unassuming in disposition, but simple, direct, keenly intelligent, and quietly forceful. At the time of his death he was rapidly advancing on a successful and useful career. He never married, but was survived by both his parents, together with a brother and sister.

Children: Henry, Jr., Jan. 1, 1899; Bonnie Ruth, June 19, 1909.

Died: March 10, 1913, at Grand Forks, N. D.

HENRY LAMPART LE DAUM was one of the most picturesque and interesting figures whom the Class of '97 can claim in its membership. His early death took from our ranks an extraordinary personality, and a creative mind of peculiar charm and beauty.

The University of North Dakota signally honored his memory by suspending its activities, and by devoting a day for memorial observances. From the memorial pamphlet published by the University let me quote briefly from the personal sketch by his associate, John M. Gillette.

"Professor Henry L. Le Daum was born at La Chaux-de-Fonds, Neuchâtel Canton, Switzerland, February 26, 1872. He died at Grand Forks, North Dakota, March 10, 1913, at 11 o'clock at night, having lived twelve days more than four decades. He was the victim of pneumonia, complicated and intensified by uremic poisoning. A few days ago he was among us as a friend and fellow craftsman. Today his mortal remains await the last resting place and his life is with us as a memory. He asked to see me a few hours before his death to entrust to me the future of the most cherished child of his brain, the unpublished phonetic system of teaching French to English-speaking peoples. I remained with him nearly to the end and saw his almost superhuman and indomitable struggle against the combined forces of the poison and the fever. In spite of all he was serene, full of courage, valiant and persistent in the struggle to live. It was an heroic struggle, consciousness refused to the last to give up its sovereignty over the body. In the midst of the agony and the struggle to breathe, for every breath was a gasp, and this for many hours before relief came, he kept his mind and his plan, recognized his friends, directed his nurses, and demanded of them their program for the night. He was solicitous that I should not wear myself out by his bedside. He even ordered me away under cover of the pretext that I was doing him an injury. His mind was in the midst of his work, his world of ideas, the products of his days and years of thought, and he could not afford to lay down the labor. Professor Brannon tells me that almost his last words were: 'Work, for the night is coming.' There was no white feather there, no faltering, no suing for quarter. I was proud of him in his heroism in that last great struggle, it gave me a greater respect for mankind."

And then the beautiful tribute of President Frank L. McVey: "On a soft autumnal day in the far away land of Scotland, a great man lay dying. Through the open windows came the sounds of birds in the trees outside. To his son-in-law, Lochart, he said as he passed away: 'Be a good man, my dear, be a good man.' In that phrase the whole life of Scott was garnered.

"On a winter's day a man passed away, racked with pain, while on his lips was the phrase, 'There is work to do, for the night is coming.'

"One of these men had completed his life, and his words of last response presented both a philosophy and an admonition. His life had been one of ease; from every quarter adulation and praise came unsolicited. His ambition was gratified.

"The man that we are gathered to do honor unto this day was just come to the blossoming period. The hard work of student days was telling in the conquering of scholastic difficulties and in the enjoyment of judgment and a more accurate presentation of results. In his study of the European problem play and the work of Cervantes as shown in the study of Don Quixote, he reached high ground and attained a brilliant phrasing of felicitous interpretation. Nor was this all. He had unraveled the mystery of human sound, analyzed and classified it and worked out a system of phonetics that will, in the judgment of his peers, stand as a real piece of work in the development of language study. This certainly was no small accomplishment. Nor in these comments have I referred to the kindly and humorous interpretation of Cyrano de Bergerac, which he gave us in his edition of that story.

"I use this story of Scott in opening the way to the real purpose of these remarks. I am not sure I shall be really understood, but if in way of contrast I can bring out how far Henry LeDaum has come in his way to the Beyond, I shall be justified. In the year 1888 he landed in Philadelphia, a boy of seventeen. Going at once to Ohio, he began to support himself by work wherever he could find it. As clerk, porter, laborer, he made his way, full of pride and ambition, through the high school and into college to finish well up in his classes and later on to attend Harvard University as a graduate student. Through it all he followed his chosen field of linguistic study. Then came the period of trial, the testing of the Americanization process upon the boy from foreign shores. No one can know what this means, unless he has passed through it. The apprenticeship at Iowa University, a harrowing experience in a new and untried college, an instructorship at Northwestern University brought him, when the opening came in 1908, to the University of North Dakota, as assistant professor of Romance Languages. Three years later he was advanced to the title of full professor. That is the story. It tells but little, and that by implication, of the cheerfulness, bravery and courage, the boyish enthusiasm for learning, coupled with the carefully accurate work of the trained scholar that characterized his days among us. The great purpose of life is to do your work, try to do what you can do best.

"'There is work to do.' If measured by this standard, Henry LeDaum is a successful man, for he did his work. 'Every man has a history worth knowing,' says Emerson, 'if he could tell it.' How high can you carry life? These are the views of men relative to the world. It is true that they are based on the common opinion of success, but whether viewed through the position of wealth, fame, or monopoly, or of possession, the real permanence, after all, is the doing of the work.

" *'Should chiseled plinth and rounded arch
Dispute with Time's unswerving march,
How vain the effort; these must pass
Like blown sea-vapor from a glass.*

“*The spheres that sing and swing in space,
One day their orbits who shall trace?
And yet the soul, that aura bright,
Shall outlast chaos and the night.*”

“This man whom we are gathered here to honor today, had interests in many things. The long memoranda handed to me at different times in their peculiar handwriting, were always filled with good suggestions, though often in advance of our practise. His questionnaire regarding students, their work, their life, their habits, what they were thinking about, and what they were doing, evidenced a shrewd interest in human nature. I shall miss him much because of his high ideals, his scholarship, and brave optimism. We could ill afford to lose him.

“To the woman who called him husband, to the boy and girl who called him father, and to the many men and women who called him friend, there is a memory that will always remain as green as the hills and mountains of his fatherland.”

JUST as the Fourth Report was issuing from the press, I had the honor to be appointed vice-principal of the William L. Dickinson High School of Jersey City, where, for five years, I had been a member of the teaching staff. This promotion fell exactly into place in the series of promotions that had been coming to me ever since graduation. As though controlled by mathematical destiny, I held my first position one year, the second position two years, the third one three years, the fourth one four years, the fifth one five years, and I am now completing my fifth year of service in my sixth position. If the deity that rules over mathematics continues to preside over my promotions, another change will be due in 1918. Meanwhile I am putting in ten hours of hard work each day, and striving to be content with the honor of being the husband of the president of the Civic Club of Arlington.

I confess to perpetrating the following articles:

“Air Pressure — How it was Discovered — Story of the Barometer,” published in School Science and Mathematics for October, 1916; “The Elementary Science Text-Book” — a paper delivered before the Science Section of the National Education Association, July, 1916, published in the Proceedings; Book review of Redfield’s “The New Industrial Day,” published in the Efficiency Society Journal, October, 1916.

NEVER be an associate professor,” said Jim Skillen, the venerable janitor of the Harvard Medical School, whom all newcomers mistook for a head-professor, if not the dean — and per contra some have mistaken such eminence as the Parkman Professor of Anatomy for janitor Jim — “never be an associate professor," said he to me, "for you will get no further." It is a grievous approximation, but manifest chiefly in college catalogues and obituary notices. Not only have the past five years wrought the change from assistant professor to associate professor of embryology, with perhaps the added knowledge of human development which this implies, but they have brought a little son who, at two years, recognized and named the portraits of Aristotle, Aldrovandi, Malpighi, and other embryologists. He may yet follow in their lead, but the world is full of a number of things, and I will not gainsay that other heroes may be worshipped.

THE most difficult question for me to answer is that of occupation, for, if by occupation is meant something paid for by filthy lucre, I have none really worth mentioning; and if, on the other hand, remuneration is not the criterion, I have too many occupations to catalogue.

Some persons probably think of me as a retired lawyer living on money squeezed from the widow and the orphan; others as an unrecognized literary genius — please note the word “others.” There are those, no doubt, who would define me as a versatile idler while their neighbors were writing me down a humanitarian, and not a few, perhaps, would simply pigeon-hole me as a “bundle of eccentricities” or “a Harvard man.”

I am living by the banks of the Delaware river on a very pleasant estate of some forty acres where I change the tires upon two automobiles and a Ford, besides laying out a garden, making sun-dials, working a bit in stone, brass, wood, and concrete and doing a little reading. Incidentally I drive back and forth on the twenty-two miles of road between “Sarobia” and Philadelphia, manage half a dozen small properties for a former client, act as president of the American Anti-Vivisection Society, edit the Journal of Zoöphily, and play golf. For the benefit of those who do not read the catalogues of G. P. Putnam’s Sons I may add that I published in 1914 a volume of poems entitled “Lichens from the Temple.” Aside from that I do not believe I have done any serious harm.

Address: 430 Great Plain Ave., Needham, Mass.

I CANNOT think of anything I have done within the last five years that would be interesting to mention. I have done more Court work than formerly. Last June I went to New York City for the first time, and saw parts of the city and vicinity. But for the approach of hot weather, I should have stayed longer, and undoubtedly seen more. A man living in New York City and who was bound for there with his automobile, turned in the opposite direction, and took me to a station so I could get a train that I could not get otherwise, although he was a total stranger. It is a pleasure to meet such a man when traveling.

My work consists of making the topographic field maps for the Survey which are published in quadrangle bearing the name of some permanent city or point, and used for various economic problems as well as for an authentic map for the use of the people.

STEPHEN DOUGLAS MERRILL

Born at Newport, Me., May 11, 1863.

Parents: William Leavitt, Martha Lucinda (Stimpson) Merrill.

School: Newport, Me.

Years in College: 1893-94.

Degrees: M.D. 1898 (Tufts Medical School).

Married: Lisbeth Straine, Oct. 4, 1893, Boston, Mass.

Occupation: Salesman.

Address: (business) 20 Exchange Place, Boston, Mass.; (home) 105 Pleasant St., Arlington, Mass.

UNFORTUNATELY for me I had to give up college at the end of the first year, on account of a nervous breakdown, devoting my remaining energy for a year or more to rebuilding my strength. Then I entered Tufts Medical School, and received the degree of M.D. in June, 1899. Again I collapsed with the old trouble, and for years, by travel and life in the open, found renewal of energy and health. I was obliged, however, to give up all hope of practising my profession, if I expected keep what I had won with so many disappointments. So I took up a business life, acting as representative of the Metropolitan Coal Company. I enjoy the work.

JOHN MAY MESERVE

Born at Charlestown, Mass., Dec. 1, 1874.

Occupation: Farmer.

Address: Forest Ave., Hudson, Mass.

I AM still a farmer and find in this business plenty to satisfy the mind of an active and educated man. The experiments conducted to find out just what crops will do best on different fields require patience but, nevertheless, form a series of laboratory courses which keep the mind always alert to discover the real meaning of both successes and failures.

Within the last five years I have been president of the United Brotherhood of Hudson, a member and chairman of the town Finance Committee, a member and chairman of the Trustees of the Congregational Church, and chairman for four years of the Republican Town Committee. At present I am almost through with the first year of a three years' term as Selectman and Overseer of the Poor.

I was honored last fall by being appointed one of the vice-presidents of the Republican State Convention. For the past eight months I have been one of the Fire Engineers of Hudson.

THE past five years have found me practising Law in Pittsburgh. Since April, 1915, I have had no partners and have been practising alone. Service as president of the Board of Trustees of the local Unitarian Church, as member of the Board of Directors at the University Club of Pittsburgh, and as member of the Executive Committee, entertaining the Associated Harvard Clubs in May, 1916, together with the demands of two prospective Harvard students in my family, have fully occupied my spare time and rendered extensive travel, or literary and political efforts, impossible.

I RESIGNED from the American Consular Service in January, 1914, being at that time American Consul at Bordeaux, France. I had intended to develop a practise in private international law; the European war, however, eliminated that possibility. Nevertheless, I have found that my knowledge of French and British jurisprudence and procedure, together with my familiarity of foreign trade and industrial conditions, has been of much help in many matters coming into my office. I have settled down to the orderly and respectable practise of law, and have already acquired the distinction of being "a high-priced lawyer," in the words of a former client who testified to that effect in court, a few days since. The character of my work has been, largely, chancery litigation.

CLARENCE KING MOORE

Born at New York City, Oct. 1, 1873.

Parents: James Morrison, Angela Starr (King) Moore.

Occupation: Professor of Romance Languages.

Address: (business) University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y.; (home) 53 Girton Place, Rochester, N. Y.

SINCE the last Report, my life has been, in the main, smooth and uneventful. I crossed to Europe once again during the summer of 1914 for further contact with foreign life, and was overtaken in Tours, France, by the mighty European war. During the early days of this dreadful and still unfinished business, I was held as a German spy for a few tragic moments at Charenton, some twenty miles from Paris. The leader of a company of armed cyclists demanded my papers. I produced forthwith satisfactory credentials and was dismissed with words of serious admonition. I had been jotting down innocent notes in a little account book, and had thereby aroused their suspicions.

I am still Professor of Romance Languages in the University of Rochester and am endeavoring to impart to the young people who come under my instruction certain linguistic information, much of which was absorbed in those precious halls of Harvard two decades ago.

During the past year I edited and had published in Rochester, selections from Boccaccio, Castiglione, and Machiavelli in a volume entitled "Three Prose Writers of the Italian Renaissance."

SINCE 1897 I have been attorney and counselor at law in Buffalo. I am a member of the Sons of Veterans, the Masons, and of the Acacia Club of Buffalo. I am Republican district committeeman, and have been a Republican stump speaker at Buffalo. I was appointed assistant district attorney of Erie County, New York, in March, 1902." This was his first report. Five years later he writes: "Since the last report I have been engaged in the practise of law at Buffalo, N. Y., where I am now practising with increasing success. I have become an Odd Fellow and am a Past Grand of my lodge. I have also become a member of the Lawyers' Club and of the Lawyers' Council, both of Buffalo. I have been active in politics as a Republican worker and speaker, but have held no public office since 1903."

FOR five years I practised law in Boston. During that period I also wrote articles for the "Cyclopaedia of Law," published in New York City by the American Law Book Company. I wrote part of the article entitled "Attorney and Client" and of the articles on "Attachments." I wrote the entire article on "Chattel Mortgages" in the same publication edited by Judge Leonard A. Jones. In collaboration with Judge Jones I prepared a treatise on "Landlord and Tenant," published in Indianapolis by Bobbs-Merrill Company. I was registrar of the Kansas City School of Law, and lecturer on the Law of Bankruptcy, and the Law of Sales, Bailments and Common Carriers. ### DAVIS HARRINGTON MORRIS

Born at Toledo, O., June 26, 1876.

Parents: Charles David, Eliza Burke (Harrington) Morris.

School: Granville Academy, Ohio.

Years in College: 1894-97.

Degree: S.B.

Child: Martha, Nov. 18, 1909.

Occupation: Telephone Official.

Address: (business) 33 North Third St., Columbus, O.; (home) 70 North Ohio Ave., Columbus, O.

IN 1906 I traveled in England, Ireland, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, and Norway.

In 1909, the Dayton Hydraulic Machinery Company went out of business. In June of that year I returned to the telephone business, as a special commercial agent of the Central Union Telephone Company, with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, my superior officer being Mr. E. A. Reed, Harvard, '92. On January 1, 1911, I moved to Dayton as the agent for connecting companies for the third Ohio district.

In the fall of 1911, I was suddenly stricken ill and for three months was confined to my home with a combination of typhoid malaria and pneumonia, which nearly put an end to my life's story. While convalescing from fever I spent the winter and spring of 1912 in California and the far western states.

Returning to Ohio I was again employed by the Central Union Telephone Company, this time in an engineering capacity, making development studies in Dayton and Cleveland, Ohio.

In October, 1912, I was made District Commercial Manager with headquarters at Columbus, which position I still hold.

SINCE the last Report nothing unusual has occurred and my work has grown both in numbers and interest, so that I am quite fully occupied and do not have to "kill" any time.

For several years my summer outings have been at Norrie, Colorado, on the Frying Pan River, in the heart of the Rockies, where I have a log cabin and find both pleasure and benefit in tramping and trout-fishing. Any Harvard man will be heartily welcome at my camp at any time that I am there.

My published work in music is as follows: Processional Hymn for Easter, "Alleluia"; Christmas Carol, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day"; Bass Solo and Quartet for male voices, "Softly now the Light of Day"; Ballard for Mezzo Voice, "Only she and I"; several fugues, piano and organ solos; also vocal compositions; all in manuscript form awaiting publication.

LEAVING Harvard in 1898, I spent a year in gaining experience. The Dalzell School, Worcester, Mass., furnished the first experience. Then I came to the Collegiate School, 241 West 77th St., New York City, where I have remained. In 1916, I collaborated with Mr. Charles W. UPON graduation, I followed the course of a large number who emerge from College with a smattering of knowledge without knowing what to do with it, and accepted a position as teacher at Ashburnham Academy, Ashburnham, Mass. Not being accustomed to the strict discipline enforced, I tired at the end of the term and enrolled as instructor of physics and chemistry at the Cosmopolitan University, Irvington, N. Y. In the fall of 1898, I was appointed teacher of natural science at Paterson, N. J., where I met, as a pupil, the young lady who subsequently became my wife. During the following year I showed a tendency to study medicine and in October 1899, I entered Columbia University, N. Y.

I served as interne in St. Michael's Hospital, Newark, for the course of one year and entered general practise. Two years later I became associated with the Prudential Insurance Company in the Home Office, but continued my outside work. During the past three years I have devoted considerable time to urology. In January, 1916, I was appointed clinical assistant to Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, New York, where I have continued up to the present time. I was also made consulting urologist to the Newark Maternity Hospital and clinical urologist to Newark City Hospital. I have resigned my position in the Home Office of the Prudential and devote my entire time to my specialty.

I have been Vice-President and served on several Committees of the University Club of Malden, which is composed largely of Harvard men, but have held no public office. Life has gone along about the same old channels during this period with comparatively few changes among my associates and friends.

MY principal activities, since the time of the last Report, have been in connection with the Players Club of New York, of which I am secretary. This very delightful occupation, brings me into constant contact with the noted painters, sculptors, writers, playwrights, musicians, and actors of the day — among whom are several of our classmates.

There is little else to add. My summers are always spent at York Harbor, and my door is always open. The "bone-dry" law now holds sway in Maine — but I am a firm believer in "Preparedness."

This winter, much of my time is spent in organizing New England for similar camps to be held next summer. There is "nothing further to report from my sector."

SINCE our last Reunion I have been at the head of the department of education in Wellesley College. My work grows more interesting year by year, as teaching must to anyone who regards it as the practice of a fine art. But, however full of satisfactions the career may be, it lacks those pyrotechnic elements which I look for in the reports of our munition-makers.

It is a little shocking to discover that the Class of 1917 does not remember the Spanish-American war at all, and that it regards even the administration of Theodore Roosevelt as a fading memory of childhood. Twenty years out of college one begins to hear the march of the generations.

Occupation: Meteorologist, U. S. Weather Bureau.

Address: (business) c/o U. S. Weather Bureau, Trenton, N. J.; (home) Georgetown, Mass.

IT becomes necessary to modify a statement in the last report: my oldest child is a Floridian, and the other three are Kentuckians; two for Harvard and two for Well — , I'll not name it now. Educationally I am experienced; I have been "through" several colleges; in Topeka there was a college to which I became attached; in Lexington, Ky., without any lawful connection with the State University, I bossed a faculty club of that institution, but I finally had the weather so perfectly mixed in that spot that in October, 1913, I was inflicted upon Trenton, whence from my office window the distant landscape reveals The Lair of the Tiger, Jungletown, Princeton. It's no meager education to go to that Institution and give it the "once over," with a critical eye of lofty experience.

My official duties in New Jersey are confined principally to the past and present weather throughout the State, and to the future weather within reasonable limitations. It is well to be reminded that the weather can not be "fixed."

Noteworthy publications: A weather forecast every day; a climatological summary every month.

Occupation: Manager of life insurance agency.

Address: (business) 901 Market St., Wilmington, Del.; (home) Route A, Wilmington, Del.

I REACHED home safely after the reunion in 1912, and resumed the sale of life insurance. I have written in the neighborhood of a million dollars' worth of insurance since that time. I retired from the raising of chickens when the feed bills became more regular than the egg production, and as my swan song in that industry wrote an article bearing the title, "The Great American Shell Game," which I sold to The Farm and Ranch of Dallas, Tex. This article was reprinted in a Wilmington paper, and I still hear from it. What I do not know about chickens is sufficient.

Happy am I to report an addition to our family in the person of Charles Baker Palmer, Jr., who is already cheering for Harvard, and gives the additional information that "Yale, Yale, the Gang's All Here."

In addition to my insurance work, I have written some editorials for one of our local papers, have occasionally broken into verse, and now and then have been permitted to give readings, more particularly of James Whitcomb Riley's works.

I am a member of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, the Wilmington Whist Club, the Social Service Club, Temple Lodge, A. F. A. M., Delta Chapter, R. A. M.; a director of the Perpetual Savings and Loan Association; a manager of the People's Settlement; secretary of the Vestry of St. Andrew's Church; secretary of the Gordon Heights Improvement Association; secretary of the Delaware Association of Life Underwriters, and Delaware member of the National Executive Committee of the National Association of Life Underwriters, and secretary of the Harvard Club of Delaware. I am a not candidate for any more secretaryships: so President Wilson will have to look elsewhere.

† Samuel Scoville Paschal

Born at Washington, D. C., March 16, 1875.

Parents: George W., Mary Lois (Scoville) Paschal.

School: Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.

Years in College: 1893-96.

Degree: LL.B. 1899 (Columbian University).

Married: Mary Lois Sherman, May 12, 1897, Washington, D. C.

Children: Barbara, Aug. 8, 1900, died Oct. 12, 1900; Guy Sherman, Aug. 14, 1901; Mary Lois, Nov. 7, 1904.

Died: Jan. 17, 1917, Chevy Chase, Md.

SAMUEL SCOVILLE PASCHAL, the son of George W. and Mary Lois (Scoville) Paschal, was born at Washington, D. C., March 16, 1875. He entered College from Phillips Exeter Academy in the fall of '93, remaining for three years, but not completing his course for a degree. To quote his own words: "On May 12, 1897, I married Mary Lois Sherman, of Washington. We devoted five months to our wedding trip, covering most of Europe. Returning, I began a study of law at Columbian University, Washington, D. C. I received my LL.B. in June, 1899. The same year my wife and I went to the Hawaiian Islands, and after looking things well over, settled in Honolulu, where I was admitted to practise at the Hawaiian Bar. Two delightful and intensely interesting years followed, with the future looking promising. Then I lost my health. We came east and the doctors informed me I was developing ataxia. Since then I have not been up to any really serious occupation. I bought a comfortable house in Chevy Chase and for a time was kept busy doing House Committee work in the Chevy Chase club. The automobile was a boon to me. I have been a modest owner, struggling to meet the endless demands of Washington repair shops for eleven years. Naturally, the main part of my time has been spent in reading. A most congenial wife and two aggressively healthy children have compensated me for my bad health. The boy is ten and the girl seven. Last May we came abroad for a year, primarily for me to get medical treatment in Germany. My son, Guy, the most typically American production imaginable, was left at Cotlemore School in Brighton, England. In December Guy was handed a prize for "best general improvement" by no less a personage than the Duke of Norfolk, who had been induced to undertake this arduous task.

"So far, moving slowly about the continent has proved far more interesting than waiting for something to happen in Chevy Chase, and as I seem to have been benefited in some ways by the treatment I had in Germany, this one year's stay abroad may easily pass into a two years' stay.

"While the brilliance of my own course has not been dazzling, it has been a genuine delight to me to see how very large a percentage of our class has really made good."

Paschal was enrolled in the Lawrence Scientific School, and was perhaps, less widely known among his classmates than if his work had been related to the academic side. His personality, however, was one of charm and geniality. His manner was cordial and gracious, and his smile and speech winning and kindly. To Puritan Harvard he brought something of the warmth and spontaneity of the Southland.

Despite his persistent search for health in his later years, his disposition held its sweetness, and his attitude towards his fellows continued to be one of large-minded tolerance and generous appreciation. His presence is one that will be sincerely missed at coming reunions.

He died on Jan. 17, 1917, at his home in Chevy Chase, Maryland, where he had been settled on his return from Europe, since September, 1913.

TO continue my class report, in 1912 I severed my connections with Busch & Percival of Buffalo, New York, and the following year came to California to live, drawn here, like so many others, by a desire to enjoy outdoor life and sunshine three hundred days a year. For the past four years my family and I have been living among the orange groves in the pretty little town of Exeter which lies along the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains. From here we can see all the snow we want to and are quite close enough.

My business is in the neighboring city of Fresno, where I have charge of the San Joaquin Valley branch of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of California.

I have never held any public office. While in Buffalo, New York, I was active and an officer in several civic bodies, clubs and Masonic orders. Since coming to California, I have been vice-president of the Citrus National Bank of Exeter until its consolidation with another bank.

We were thirteen months in the hands of the revolutionists and I witnessed several important battles. As the Mixed Commission awarded damages for injuries suffered at the hands of the government authorities or troops only, I was but partly indemnified for the losses suffered. In 1903 I went back to New York to recover my lost health, and in the following winter again returned to Venezuela, this time to the capital, Caracas, for the purpose of managing the Venezuelan interests of several large American exporters and manufacturers. I also became the Venezuelan correspondent of the New York Herald and Associated Press; I am still the Associated Press correspondent. THE winter of 1912-13 I spent in Egypt, Ceylon, and India; going on in the spring to the Straits Settlements, China, and Japan. The following summer I passed in the Hawaiian Islands, where I had the pleasure of playing with Jimmy Wilder upon his native heath. Honolulu is so seductive that I went back again in the summer of 1915. In 1914 I had the good fortune to be in Belgium when the Germans crossed the border, and there, and later in England, I had the opportunity to see much of the excitement of the early war days. Last year I went to Alaska, and of course to the Canadian Rockies, which are the most beautiful and grandest mountains in this part of the world. The only mountains which I have ever seen to surpass them are the Himalayas, as viewed from Darjeeling in northern India. Between travels I have continued at my profession of architecture in New York, and also the profession of fox-hunter across the fields of New Jersey.

JAMES DUNCAN PHILLIPS

Born at San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 5, 1876.

Parents: Stephen Henry, Margaret (Duncan) Phillips.

School: Salem High School, Salem Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Married: Nannie Jenckes Borden, March 20, 1907, Headcorn, Kent, England.

Occupation: Publisher.

Address: (business) 4 Park St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Rowley Bridge Road, Topsfield, Mass.

SINCE 1912 I have continued actively in charge of the Educational Department of Houghton Mifflin Company, which has now grown to large proportions. In August, 1915, I was also elected treasurer of the Company, but I still retain my interest in the educational work. The last two years have been difficult ones in the publishing business on account of the rapid and excessive rise in the prices of all things used in the making of books.

My interest in Harvard Club matters has continued and I have been successively vice president of the New England Federation and of the New England Division of the Associated Harvard Clubs. I was chairman of a committee of the Associated Clubs which prepared a report on the expenditures of the undergraduates, which attracted considerable attention. For two or three years I have been on the Board of the Harvard Graduates' Magazine.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce has attracted my attention also and I have served on the Committee on Municipal and Metropolitan Affairs. I am also on the school board of my home town.

During the winter 1913-14 I went around the world, visiting Hawaii, the Fiji Islands, New Zealand, Australia, and Ceylon. New Zealand is an interesting country, but the idea that there are no strikes there is a myth. I landed in Auckland to find the city held down by some 1200 armed and mounted men.

The preparedness movement took me to Plattsburg more as a political demonstration than as a possible soldier. Soldiers have to be caught younger, but I am glad that I had a chance to serve with the remarkable body of men who made up the First Plattsburg Regiment.

When I have nothing else to do I farm a little in Topsfield and just had the pleasure of winning the Sweepstakes Ribbon at the Massachusetts Milk and Butter show for the best milk produced or sold in the whole state with a score of 97.70.

† Willard Norman Poland

Born at Boston, Mass., June 5, 1873.

Parents: John Carroll, Huldah Henrietta (Holmes) Poland.

School: Boston Latin School, Boston, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Married: Susan Fordham Hart, Oct. 18, 1906, Boston, Mass.

Child: Willard Norman, Jr., Oct. 2, 1909.

Died: Oct. 23, 1915, at West Roxbury, Mass.

WILLARD NORMAN POLAND was born at Boston, Mass., June 5, 1873. His parents, John Carroll and Hulda Henrietta (Holmes) Poland, moved from Maine soon after their marriage and settled first at Lawrence, Mass., and shortly after at Boston, which latter place their son was to call "home" throughout his life. In his boyhood Poland suffered from a severe bronchial attack which handicapped him until his eighteenth year when he came to enjoy vigorous health, having no serious illness again until the winter of 1896-1897 when he was successfully operated upon for appendicitis by the famous Dr. M. H. Richardson.

His preparatory schooling was at the Boston Latin School, which he entered from the Gibson Grammar School of Dorchester. At college he took a group of academic courses, having in mind, however, his purpose to continue his studies at the Harvard Law School. His A.B. degree was received in regular course in '97. After two postgraduate years at the Law School he entered in the fall of 1899 the law office of Edward H. Pierce, and under his guidance prepared for the bar examinations which he passed successfully the following June. After admission to the bar he conducted a general law practise, giving especial attention to corporation and patent law.

To quote from his own narrative of 1912: "I am, and have been, interested in matters of a civic nature relating to the welfare of my home district, West Roxbury. I am a charter member of the West Roxbury Citizens' Association. I have been chairman of its most important committees, was its president for two years, and at the present time am serving my third year as its secretary. I have also been a member of the Republican Ward and City Committee from Ward 23, Boston, for eight years, having served one year as its treasurer. I am a member of only one social organization, the Highland Club of West Roxbury. My literary efforts have been confined chiefly to the Lawyer's Diary."

Poland's activities took him only rarely outside New England. He adverts with keen delight to a trip in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia in 1899; and again to a business journey which took him to Chicago, and finally to Brandon, Manitoba. He was essentially indigenous to New England, and expressed in his sound and dependable character its essential virtues. He was the soul of integrity, and kindness inhered in all his social relations. He possessed that sense of justice and fairness, which combined with his probity and industry to make him an increasingly potent influence among his friends and neighbors. He married on October 18, 1906, Susan Fordham Hart at Boston, their son Willard Norman Poland, Jr., being born October 2, 1909.

Poland's death occurred after a short illness at West Roxbury, Oct. 23, 1915. He was survived by his wife and son.

Later I became connected with the law firm of Herrick, Allen, Boyeson and Martin, Chicago, Ill. I published an article on 'Municipal Contracts and the Regulation of Rates,' in the Harvard Law Review, November, 1902.

I STILL persist in the practice of law. Adds nothing to his last report, where he said: "I began private practise — in the Equitable Building at 120 Broadway, which I managed to maintain without interference from the landlord down until that to me cheerless wintry morning in January, 1912, when every last vestige of my professional accoutrements disappeared from view, as completely as if they had never been, in the disaster which disposed of everything in the building save a few hundred millions of dollars in cash and securities, which did not happen to be in my office. I have since started life anew with offices in the United States Express Building at 2 Rector Street, which the agent assures me is 'fire-proof.' I hope so."

IN 1914 the Red River Timber Co., of which I was secretary and treasurer, finished cutting the timber from its land in Arkansas and shortly after surrendered its corporate charter. Its land and other property are now held by two trustees of which I am one. I am now with Halsey Stuart & Co., dealers in investment bonds, with offices at 522 Security Building, St. Louis, Mo.

In the summer of 1914 my brother, F. C. Prescott, '96, and I planned a trip to Europe and sailed for Havre in July. The outbreak of the war caught us at Vevey, Switzerland. For about two weeks we served with a committee of American citizens, hastily formed to help the American consul there and to assist fellow Americans in getting passports and money, and in arranging for transportation back to the United States. After considerable delay and difficulty and many interesting experiences we got back to England. My brother sailed for home shortly after, as he fortunately had return passage reserved before and on the American line. I spent several weeks in England, Wales, the Isle of Man, and Scotland and sailed in October from Glasgow for Quebec. I am still hoping to hear that the filthy little boat I came home on has been sunk by a submarine.

ALFRED ZANTZINGER REED

Born at Colorado Springs, Col., Jan. 31, 1875.

Parents: Jacob, Charlotte Rochester (Cuming) Reed.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Teacher.

Address: (business) 576 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y.; (home) 27 W. 44th St., New York, N. Y.

IN the spring of 1913 I undertook for the Carnegie Foundation work of unusual opportunities and interest:—a study of legal education in the United States. Since then I have visited one hundred and thirty-two law schools, and am now getting my voluminous data in shape for publication. By way of contrast I went to Plattsburg last July; took part in a dashing bayonet charge, and was killed three times in the maneuvers. My political affiliations remain unchanged; this does not mean that I voted for the Democratic candidate for president. We all of us have been, or ought to have been, upset by the war. My own contribution to the discussion of current problems is that the attempt to see both sides of a question can be overdone; devotion to a cause is the highest ideal.

My life for the last five years has been comparatively uneventful;—hardly anything of more than personal interest having occurred during that period and nothing worthy of recording here, except that, during that time I became a member of the Harvard Club of Boston; from my association with which I have derived much pleasure.

Occupation: Medical Officer, United States Army (Major, Medical Corps).

Address: c/o Surgeon General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C.; Cebu, P. I.

THE period covered by the last five years has been more or less profitably spent in my chosen profession. Four years of the period were passed in Texas, a state found to be glorious, in size but not otherwise. My experience at Fort Clark, on the plains of West Texas, was interesting inasmuch as a very good idea could be obtained there of frontier conditions in America in the days when the West was wild and woolly. Nearly three years were spent at Galveston in purely administrative work, connected with the troops mobilized at that point while the administration in Washington was formulating its Mexican policy. At the date of writing, I have completed one year of my third tour in the Philippine Islands, all of which time has been spent at Warwick Barracks, Cebu city, Island of Cebu. News of the declaration of war against Germany has just been received here with general gratification but without excitement.

I HAVE little to add to my statement made in 1912. I am still a member of the Milton School Committee, being now the Chairman, but my term expires in March, 1917. I attended the first Plattsburg camp for business men in August, 1915, where I was glad to find a number of classmates. I feel that the country is in a critical position, that our foreign relations are being badly handled, and that we should prepare for war at once. The worst of it is, the country appears to be asleep.

Occupation: Physician, Superintendent State Tuberculosis Hospital.

Address: Tuberculosis Hospital, Kearney, Neb.

SINCE the publication of the Fourth Report the fight against tuberculosis has become my entire work. Realizing the futility of most efforts in private practise in this direction I have entered Sanatorium work. In April, 1915, I left St. Paul, Minnesota, to take the position of assistant superintendent of the Minnesota Sanatorium for Consumptives. Leaving there January 1, 1916, I took up the duties of superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Hospital of Nebraska the fourteenth of the same month (January, 1916). Here I find not alone the fascination of the care of the patients and the study of this disease, but the unlimited opportunities in the campaign of education in a comparatively new field and the building up of a new institution.

The city of Kearney has about six thousand population; it is built near the site of Fort Kearney, an historic landmark of the early days on the Oregon Trail. The famous Lincoln Highway from coast to coast passes through the town and along the Hospital grounds, which are said to be exactly midway between Boston and San Francisco. This is an educational center, the site of the largest State Normal School in Nebraska, with its five to six hundred winter and eight to nine hundred summer students and faculty, so that I am not isolated as so many of my confrères in tuberculosis work, whose institutions are in remote country districts.

It was interesting so far as it meant getting an insight into the important work that the Foundation is doing educationally. I have, however, taken up the work of the American Academy in Rome in its New York Office since October. This, too, is interesting; — not statistically or after the scientific fashion, but in its human developments.

Married: Elizabeth Stafford, Sept. 12, 1907, Lawrence, Mass.

Occupation: Minister and Missionary; Professor of History.

Address: (present) Baptist College, Rangoon, Burma; (permanent) American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Ford Building, Boston, Mass.

THE past five years have brought no great change in my work as noted in the last Class Report. I still hold the chair of history in the Baptist College, Rangoon, Burma, to which I was appointed ten years ago. This institution now numbers, all told, about 1700, largely in the lower grades, but the college proper increased 33 % last year and is winning for itself a position of large influence in the educational and religious affairs of the Near East. Another Harvard man has joined our staff, making three in this province of India.

In 1914-15 I took furlough in America and another will be due, if the Lord tarry, in 1923. We enjoyed a week in Ceylon on our way home and another in Italy, besides stopping at Sicily and the Azores, but for inland scenery we found nothing surpassing Burma which is often overlooked by globe trotters. Garrison's hearty greeting soon after landing in Boston stands out vividly in retrospect. Most of our time at home was devoted to rest and recuperation after the years spent so much near the Equator, and then to addresses in Massachusetts and Vermont on behalf of our mission field.

Returning by a circuitous route through the South, thence to the Panama Exposition, Japan, China, and the Malay Straits Settlements, a journey of 13,940 miles in 89 days, war conditions causing such a dearth of shipping that we were hung up at Singapore more than three weeks and were fortunate to get away then. There is no unrest manifest in Burma and remarkably little in any part of India on account of the war, so that high cost of living, departure of students for the Mesopotamian front, and Red Cross giving by the men and sewing by the women are the war aspects which chiefly confront us. In case the United States joins in, as now seems likely, the Americans here under leadership of our Consul are talking of cabling an offer of services to Washington with request if not needed there that permission be given to offer the same to the British Government here. However, I do not expect such service will be required, save possibly for light guard duty locally to release for the front the few regiments usually kept in the province. But we are proud of our Harvard men and ambulances in France and to you at the home base send happy greetings in this war worn time from our remote corner of the planet.

EDUARDO EGBERTO SALDAÑA

Born at Rio Piedras, Porto Rico, April 24, 1874.

Degree: S.B.

Married: Marie Ezequiela de Casenave, Aug. 19, 1900, San Juan, Porto Rico.

Children: Eduardo Luis C., July 9, 1901; Luis Manuel, Feb. 5, 1903; Matilde, April 26, 1905; Alberto I. M., Jan. 6, 1907; Victor José, July 20, 1908; Margarita, May 28, 1911.

Occupation: Mechanical Engineer.

Address: 16 Tetuam St., San Juan, Porto Rico; or "Carmen" Central, Vega Alta, Porto Rico; or Central "Monserrate," Manati, Porto Rico; or Box 906, San Juan, Porto Rico.

SINCE leaving Harvard my time has been given to the superintendence of various engineering works. During 1898 I represented the Edward P. Allis Company, of Milwaukee, in various parts of Spain, Cuba and Porto Rico. During the first part of 1899 I was in London with the Blake and Knowles Steam Pump Works, and the Wheeler Condenser and Engineering Company. Since May, 1899, I have been for the most part in San Juan, Porto Rico, with the San Juan Light and Transit Company, the San Juan Board of Prison Control, the American Railroad Company of Porto Rico, etc. On March 24, I was appointed first assistant city engineer and mechanical engineer in charge of the pumping station of San Juan, positions I still hold. My work has naturally caused me to travel extensively to oversee the settlement of many difficult engineering problems.

"After ending my contract with the city of San Juan as mechanical engineer in charge of the water works, I opened an office in San Juan and have since devoted all my time to sugar-house installations. Sugar-house work is my specialty."

On May 3, 1912, Saldaña wrote: "I continue to devote my time to sugar-house work. On August 6, 1908, I was appointed chief engineer for Central 'Carmen,' Vega Alta, Porto Rico, which position I continue to hold."

No reply since Third Report.

Any of the above addresses will probably reach him.

MY work has not changed materially during the last five years. While ordained to the gospel ministry I have not worked at it much, but have continued the trucking business which has been successful financially and has been conducive to good health. Your five-year questions lead us to consider how little we have done that is worthy of record, compared with what we had hoped to do.

Address: (business) 14 Wall St., New York, N. Y.; (home) Madison, N. J.

FROM 1907 to 1913 I was an official of the Carnegie Foundation (Pension Expert). In 1912 framed the pension system for the Episcopal Church, and on December 1, 1913, resigned from the Carnegie Foundation to become Secretary of the Church Pension Fund.

Since 1913 I have been occupied, first, in securing the assent of all of the dioceses of the Episcopal Church to the proposed pension system, and second, in organizing and managing the campaign by which Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts and others raised $7,000,000 as an initial reserve for the Church Pension Fund between March, 1916, and March, 1917.

Since March 1, 1917, I am the active executive (with the title of secretary) of the Church Pension Fund. I am a trustee of the Fund by the election of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church.

My most careful publication is the elaborate pension document entitled "Preliminary Report of the Joint Commission on the Support of the Clergy" (1913).

ROGER LIVINGSTON SCAIFE

Born at Boston, Mass., Aug. 14, 1875.

Parents: Lauriston Livingston, Helen Amelia (Sprague) Scaife.

School: Hopkinson's School, Boston, Mass.

Occupation: Publisher.

Address: (business) 4 Park St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 180 Canton Ave., Milton, Mass.

SINCE acquiring a sheepskin, with the exception of a year at the Harvard Law School, my life has been spent in Boston, in the employ of Houghton, Mifflin and Company, publishers. After passing through various departments of the business, I became, in 1908, a stockholder and director in the company, which, that year, was reorganized as a corporation. Today I hold the position of secretary of the executive committee.

The last five years have been passed quietly and pleasantly in Milton. During the past year, I have succeeded to the position in Houghton Mifflin Company, formerly held by the late Francis J. Garrison, the son of William Lloyd Garrison and an uncle of our Class Secretary; a man greatly beloved and honored by all who knew him.

As a trustee of the Lampoon and as a member of the Graduate Committee of the Hasty Pudding Club, it has been my pleasure to continue, in a small way, relations with our old life at Cambridge.

On March 30, 1913, my first boy (David, Jr.) was born, and on May 13, 1914, my second, John Gordon. In August, 1913, I was appointed by Governor Foss a member of the Board of Parole and Advisory Board of Pardons for the State of Massachusetts. This work, though of the greatest interest, took more time than I could afford, and I resigned November 6, 1913. On January 13, 1914, I was re-elected, after an interval of three years, to the Boston School Committee of which I became chairman during the year 1916-1917.

In March, 1914, I was elected a charter member of the American College of Surgeons. September 15, 1914, I was appointed First Lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army by President Wilson. On January 1, 1917, I was appointed Surgeon in Chief of the Beth Israel Hospital, Boston, and elected President of its Staff. On February 5, 1917, my second term as member of the School Committee terminated, and I did not seek reelection.

JOSEPH HENRY SCATTERGOOD

Born at Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 26, 1877.

Parents: Thomas, Sarah (Garrett) Scattergood.

School: Forsythe School, Philadelphia; Haverford College, Haverford, Pa.

Years in College: 1896-97.

Degrees: A.B.; A.B. 1896 (Haverford).

Married: Anne Theodora Morris, June 13, 1906, Villa Nova, Pa.

Children: Mary Morris, Sept. 24, 1907; Thomas, March 1, 1909; Alfred Garrett, 2d, Nov. 2, 1911; Ellen Morris, Jan. 24, 1914; Evelyn, Feb. 2, 1916.

Occupation: Manufacturer and trustee.

Address: (business) 648 Bourse, Philadelphia, Pa.; (home) Villa Nova, Pa.

I AM still a director and interested in the American Dyewood Company, as well as in the United Dyewood Corporation of which also I am a director. I am also vice-president and director of the Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania, (incorporated 1794). I am also president of the Kent Building Company (Brooklyn), vice-president of the American Water Softener Company (Philadelphia), and a director of the First National Bank (Philadelphia). I have been active in reform politics of Philadelphia, having been an original member of the executive board of the Committee of Seventy and one of the starters of the City Party. Upon the passage, in 1906, of the reform law in Pennsylvania, establishing personal registration of voters in the larger cities, Governor Pennypacker appointed me one of the four Registration Commissioners for the city of Philadelphia. I was reappointed in 1909 by Governor Stuart, and served until 1912. Under this law about sixty thousand fraudulent votes formerly cast in Philadelphia have been made an impossibility for the future, and the way was prepared for the final significant victory in November, 1911, when Mayor Blankenburg, a time-honored reformer, was elected.

I have continued my interest in cricket, and in addition to the trip to England of 1897, I again toured England in 1903 with the Gentlemen of Philadelphia and with Merion Cricket Club in 1914. I was captain of the Merion Cricket Club team for four seasons, and for several years was wicket-keeper on the All-Philadelphia International teams. In 1903 and 1904 I also coached the Haverford College football team. I have been interested in mountain climbing and exploring in the Canadian Rockies, and have made several trips to the Northwest for this purpose, making four virgin ascents, and am a member of the American Alpine Club.

I am a manager and treasurer of Haverford College, of the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men and of Christiansburg Industrial Institute (Virginia), a manager of Pennsylvania Training School for Feeble-Minded Children, the Young Men's Christian Association, Vacant Lots Cultivation Association, Armstrong Association, Grandom Institution, etc.

As president of the old Insurance Company of the State of Pennsylvania, I made an historical study of the French Spoliation Claims against the United States Government, and submitted an exhaustive report, which was published by the Government, on the subject before one of the committees of Congress. I am still much interested in the pressing of these old and just claims upon Congress until the last of them shall have been paid.

Address: Templeton, Mass.

I HAVE nothing to say except that I am still pegging away. My wife died in the summer of 1911. I married again, in the winter of 1913. My two boys are now in college, one in Brown, the other in Harvard. I should add, before being reproached, that the only reason the elder didn't vote Harvard was that he could not. His failure almost broke his heart. He is now doing rather well at Brown. The younger is a Harvard freshman. Only the men who have put two sons through college on a very narrow income can know the excitement of it. One's sensations are, at times, quite comparable to those of men at the front.

In this beautiful hill town I have largely regained health, and have, possibly, gained other things quite as good. Life grown more worth living, folks better looking, and the world more friendly. I have neither written a book of any account, nor run for office. Even Harvard cannot work miracles. But I begin my day with ten lines of Homer, and am always the better for remembering that I, too, have been in Arcady.

THE advent, in 1913, of a prospective Harvard man has been the most important event in my affairs since the publication of the last report.

A fairly prolific garden has occupied my leisure hours in an endeavor to reduce the High Cost of Living. I have also been interested in dental affairs as a whole, and have served for the last three years, as secretary of the Metropolitan District of the Massachusetts Dental Society.

TO my story as given in the fourth report I would now add that I remained teaching in the Noble and Greenough School, Boston, till June, 1913. I was married in the summer of 1912. I next taught one year in The Browning School, New York City. In the fall of 1914 I opened the Lawrence Smith School for Boys, now at 111 East 60th Street, New York, N. Y. The school is flourishing. Several pupils are sons of Harvard men of the '90's. I am doing all I can for such sons of sons of Yale and Princeton as come my way.

Occupation: Wholesale shoe business.

Address: (business) 12 Salem St., Worcester, Mass.; (home) 25 Hammond St., Worcester, Mass.

THERE has been little change in the even tenor of my life during the last five years. The advent of a daughter in March, 1913, has helped to keep us young, despite the fact that our eldest daughter is a Freshman at Smith College. In March, 1913, I was appointed a member (one of three) of the Liquor License Commission of Worcester and have just been reappointed for a term of four years.

Address: (business) Browne and Nichols School, Cambridge, Mass.; (home) 3 Walker Terrace, Cambridge, Mass.

NOTHING new of any possible interest to my classmates has occurred in my life these last five years, unless it be the birth, on April 17, 1913, of my third son, Wilder. I am still teaching French at the Browne and Nichols School and have become quite used to being perennially enthusiastic, for the benefit of beginning classes, over the various forms of the definite article. We continue to spend our winters in Cambridge and our summers at Annisquam.

Address: (business) St. Luke's Church, Des Moines, Ia.; (home) 1439 Sixth Ave., Des Moines, Ia.

I LEFT Boston in December, 1914, to take up work in Des Moines, and fell upon evil days—a moribund parish and much sickness. I changed from St. Mark's to St. Luke's Church, also in Des Moines, in October, 1915, and have lived happily ever after. Very little worth reporting. I am chaplain of the Pioneer Lodge of Masons, No. 22, Chaplain of Buren R. Sherman Class, Des Moines Consistory Scottish Rite Masons, No. 3, Scout Master of Troop 28, Des Moines Council Boy Scouts of America.

In the course of an unremitting fight for health for the past five years — which I have altogether won — I have tramped some five hundred miles in Colorado during the past two summers under the knapsack, and recommend the same to any classmate with a bad “tummy” or a love of the open. Pikes, Evans, James, and the Arapahoe Glacier I’ve seen, and there are more to come. I would be glad to take on any classmate any August for such a program. “Empty pockets and a halcyon heart!”

Occupation: Minister.

Address: (business) Congregational Church, Winnetka, Ill.; (home) 672 Lincoln Ave., Winnetka, Ill.

SINCE 1910, I have been minister of a Community Church in Winnetka, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago on the North Shore of Lake Michigan. Here we have a church in whose membership are enrolled representatives from seventeen denominations, without dogma or creed, seeking to serve the religious needs of an important community. Winnetka is the home of an unusually large number of Harvard men; their leadership in the civic and religious life of the community is marked.

In 1914, I had a second summer abroad, being caught by the war, as were so many Americans, but without any discomforts.

I am a member of the University Club of Chicago.

ELMER ERNEST SOUTHARD

Born at Boston, Mass., July 28, 1876.

Parents: Martin, Olive Wentworth (Knowles) Southard.

School: Boston Latin School, Boston, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degrees: A.B.; M.D. 1901; A.M. 1902.

Married: Mabel Fletcher Austin, June 27, 1906, Boston, Mass.

Children: Horace Austin, March 15, 1909; Ordway, Nov. 29, 1911; June, Oct. 13, 1913.

Occupation: Medicine (mental).

Address: (business) 74 Fenway Road, Boston, Mass.; (home) 70 Francis Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

IN May, 1912, I assumed the directorate of the Psychopathic Hospital in Boston, a state institution having the functions of (1) a clearing-house for all doubtful mental cases of the metropolitan district (100 beds, about 2000 patients annually) and (2) a research institute for the Massachusetts Commission on Mental Diseases (teaching facilities, extensive laboratories). Numerous investigations have been undertaken, perhaps the most practical being in connection with syphilis of the nervous system (book now in press). The benefits of the psychopathic hospital type of service are now to be extended under legislative authority (1917) to the whole of the commonwealth upon a district system.

Upon the accession of Dean E. H. Bradford, I was placed in charge of the Harvard Department of Diseases of the Nervous System (three sub-departments, Neuropathology, Clinical Neurology, Psychiatry). We have been trying to determine more good men into the lively field of mental hygiene. The class of '97 was ahead of its time in this matter, contributing H. M. Adler, B. T. Burley, Herbert C. de V. Cornwell, William Healy, and myself to either psychiatry or neurology.

I attended the last (for many years) International Medical Congress at London in 1913.

I play as much chess as the world permits. Genealogy is no longer of so much interest, as I find I am descended from so many kings. I lecture a good deal on technical topics and have also lectured at the Society of Independent Artists on "Are Cubists Sane?"

I received an honorary degree of Doctor of Science from the George Washington University of Washington, D. C., in June, 1917.

Mr. Stevens is a native of Binghamton, N. Y., who studied at Harvard, and, after graduating at that University’s Law School, settled in New Hampshire and began to practise his profession. He also became interested in politics and was elected to the state legislature in 1909, 1911 and 1913. In that body he made his mark as a Progressive. Heartily in sympathy with the reform movements then powerful in the state, he found popular support, and was sent from the Second New Hampshire District to Congress, where, during his one term, he became prominent as the advocate of legislation governing the conduct of business in the country, legislation summed up in what was known as the Fair Trade Bill.”

MY business connections have been first with the book publishing firm of Herbert S. Stone and Company, then as general manager of the Associated Sunday Magazines, and later as president of the Metropolitan Magazine Company, and editor of the Metropolitan, a monthly magazine. I abandoned work in 1911, on account of ill health, and devoted my time to writing.

I draw royalties as part author of two plays, "Brewster's Millions" and "Graustark," and I have written many articles for the magazines with which I have been connected, but I have no book or play to my exclusive credit.

Since 1911 I have done practically nothing but pursue a "cure" and that with only varying degrees of success. In the spring of 1915 I had regained my health and was on the point of attempting some real work when a relapse put me back to where I had been four years before and I began again to climb the long slow trail. During this time I have lived in Switzerland, Arizona, and California.

CHAN LOON TEUNG is now employed in a chemical laboratory in Hong Kong. The following letter from Miss Carter gives information about him.

Dear Mr. Garrison:

Two or three months ago I forwarded to Mr. Chan L. Teung's address an earlier copy of his blank which reached me, and I trust he will fill it out and return it to you. I think you already have the date of his marriage, August 22, 1898, to Poey Wing Wong in Hong Kong, China. Their first child, a boy, was born in Foochow, December, 1899, and their second child, a girl named Elizabeth, in November, 1901, in Hong Kong. In 1903, Mae, a girl, was born in Nanking, and in 1905, Eu Sing, a boy, was born, who died in the summer of 1906. On July 19, 1906, he wrote: "I resigned my position in the mint in order to accept the one in the Government High School, the first of the year. The past term I taught chemistry, physical geography, universal history and English. The chemistry classes were quite large, sixty students each, and they were taught in Chinese by lectures. The other classes were not so large, twenty students each. In addition to the above-mentioned work, I had a little work in the viceroy's yamen, teaching his two grandsons physical chemistry three times a week. You can see how many lessons I had to prepare each day." October 16, 1906, he wrote: "My work is about the same." I have written the foregoing that if Mr. Chan fails to answer your questions you may not be without some data for the decennial of the Class of 1897.

Yours truly,

HARRIETTE CARTER.

 "After graduating from the Harvard Law School in 1900, I entered the law office of Butler, Notman, Joline and Mynderse, 54 Wall Street, New York, where I gave special attention to admiralty and maritime law. The specialty of admiralty and marine law has brought many interesting cases of collision, salvage, marine insurance, and prize law to my attention. In the summer of 1908 I went to Russia, visiting St. Petersburg and Moscow, in connection with a number of prize cases growing out of the Russo-Japanese war. In 1910 I was one of the counsel for the Italian steamer Florida, which collided with and sank the White Star Liner Republic, a case in which wireless telegraphy first played an important part in the work of rescue after collision at sea. In 1910 I made an address on 'The History of Marine and Transportation Insurance,' before the Insurance Society of New York."

AFTER my graduation at Cambridge, in 1897, I attended the Harvard Law School for two years and then the University of Pennsylvania Law School, where I took my degree. I was admitted to the Bar in Philadelphia. I practised law in the office of Messrs. Morgan, Lewis, and Bockius for four years. Owing to ill health I had to give up the practise of law, so I went to New Mexico, where I became interested in the Diamond Bar Cattle Ranch, remaining there for three years as a cow puncher, and taking several hunting trips through the country. In 1908, I sold most of my interest in the ranch and resumed my life in the East, taking up farming, raising thoroughbred cattle and horses.

In addition to my farming I have become interested in the social and charitable affairs in Philadelphia. I am a member of the Board of the Society for Organizing Charity, the White Haven Sanatorium for tuberculosis, and the Bureau of Municipal Research in this city. I have also been interested in the improvement of political conditions of this country, and with that purpose in mind have started a course in municipal government at Harvard, to be given for ten years under Professor W. B. Munro. I was appointed by the Overseers of Harvard College a member of the Visiting Committee on Government.

WILLIS PAGE TILTON

Born at Boston, Mass., Sept. 6, 1873.

Parents: Stephen Willis, Frances Ellen (Tilton) Tilton.

Schools: Roxbury High School, Roxbury, Mass.; English High School, Boston, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B. 1897 (1898).

Unmarried.

Occupation: Genealogist.

Address: 64 Aspinwall Ave., Brookline, Mass.

THE past five years have passed very quickly, quietly, and for me, very uneventfully. I live in the same place in Brookline with my mother who has become quite feeble, and I have but little time for anything outside my home and business.

Up to two years ago, my business had been for some years that of the manufacture and sale of printing inks. This, however, became very much unsettled, owing to the difficulty of obtaining dyes, chemicals, etc., from abroad, and this unsettlement finally became so great that as a result I found myself without a business.

Almost since our college days genealogy had been a hobby of mine, and consequently I have now adopted it as a profession. It seems to me that nowadays, when educators attempt to find out at an early date just what a boy or girl has inclination and adaptability for, in planning their life work some knowledge at least as to the professions, occupations, and environment of their ancestors could be very usefully employed.

In looking back over the ancestral lines of many of our great educators, college presidents, and eminent divines, we find that in most cases the best and most distinguished among them have in turn come from educated and college-bred stock, just as in the Army and in the Navy, we have had for some generations now what are known as army families and navy families. Thus aside from any matter of pride or desire to enter a patriotic society of more or less exclusiveness, I think that the study of genealogy is useful and of value. Had all my ancestry been as carefully worked out by some one before my day as it has since been, I am very sure that my early education would have been different, my four years in college of more benefit to me, and fifteen at least of the last twenty spent in entirely different ways.

If any member of the Class wishes his pedigree correctly and carefully recorded or a coat of arms attractively illuminated on parchment, I should be glad to hear from him.

DID not reply. Data and story taken from previous report. Five years ago he wrote:

“In 1902 I opened a separate law office, in which manner I have since continued business. I have been and am now an officer in various corporations located in and about Boston. My law practise has steadily grown and is both court and office work (court work including both civil and criminal trials). I do not now enter actively into any kind of politics. I have purchased a house in Rockland, Mass., where I am now living.”

† Moses Binney Tower

Born at Auburndale, Mass., Aug. 13, 1873.

Parents: Moses Spencer, Alma Wing (Patterson) Tower.

School: Newton High School, Newton, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-95, 1896-97.

Married: Eudora Nathalie Wylie, April 7, 1906, Los Angeles, Cal.

Died: May 4, 1915, at New York, N. Y.

MOSES BINNEY TOWER, the son of Moses Spencer and Alma Wing (Patterson) Tower, was born at Auburndale, Mass., August 13, 1873. He prepared for college at the Newton High School, taking during the school year of 1892-1893 a special course at Boston University. He entered Harvard as a special student in the fall of '93, attending college during the years 1893-1895 and 1896-1897. Ill health had interrupted his studies at school, and proved a barrier to a degree at college. After a few months at Cambridge in his freshman year, he was obliged to make a trip to Jamaica to regain his health, and again later he was forced to break the continuity of his attendance.

After leaving college, he spent a year teaching at Westport, Mass. Realizing, however, the necessity of avoiding the confinement of indoor work, he then traveled for some years in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and California. For a brief period he was engaged in journalism — the profession to which in college days he was looking forward — in San Diego and Los Angeles.

On April 7, 1906, he married Eudora Nathalie Wylie (who had come to California from Norwich, N. Y.), at Los Angeles, Cal.

Tower was a man of liberal views regarding religion and politics, and took such part as he was able in the progressive causes, including the suffrage for women, now become a reality in California. His mind was inclined to philosophical speculation, and it is significant that his favorite course at college was Philosophy 4, treating of ethics.

He died suddenly from an attack of malaria as he was passing through the city of New York, May 4, 1915.

WILLIAM LAWRENCE TOWER

Born at Halifax, Mass., Dec. 22, 1872.

Parents: Lorenzo Augustus, Mary Sheldon (Thompson) Tower.

School: Howard High School, Halifax, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-96, 1898-99 (Sc. Sch.).

Married: Lucia Kieve, Aug. 21, 1898, Brighton, Mass.

Children: Lucia Elizabeth, Nov. 8, 1899; Sarah Sheldon, June 8, 1901; Lawrence Kieve, Jan. 11, 1904.

Address: (uncertain) c/o University of Chicago, Chicago, Ill.

SINCE leaving College I have been in the Harvard Graduate School, and, during 1900–1901, professor of biology and Hoagland professor of physiology in Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio. From 1901 to the present time I have been assistant in embryology and comparative anatomy in the University of Chicago. I am a member of the Chicago Academy of Science, the Naturalists of Central United States, the Boston Society of Natural History, and of the A. A. A. S. I have written a large number of articles on zoological subjects in various publications.

There has been no change in my address or occupation since the last report. I am still at the same line of work, but have advanced somewhat in rank, and now am an assistant professor of zoology in the University of Chicago. In the years 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906 I spent a considerable portion of each in southern Mexico in pursuit of certain lines of investigation which were begun as an undergraduate in the Museum of Comparative Zoology. All of 1905 and the larger part of 1906 were spent in southern Mexico, our residence being in part in Cerevaracca, in part in Mexico City and Orizaba. This work in the tropics I hope to continue. Since the last report I have published several technical papers, but have in the main been occupied with a rather extensive investigation, of which the first report has been published this year by the Carnegie Institute (320 pp., 30 pl.). A second part is in process of preparation for the printers.

No reply since third Report from which the above narrative was extracted.

Occupation: Landscape architect.

Address: (business) 15 Exchange St., Boston, Mass.; (home) Belmont, Mass.

NOTHING of great moment has happened to me or to my family since the last Class Report. In connection with my landscape architectural work, I have recently taken up the photographing of gardens by the new process of "direct color photography." I use that to illustrate my lectures on gardens. I throw these pictures, enlarged several times, upon a screen by means of an electrically lighted stereopticon and the reproduction of the true colors is quite remarkable. When the war is over I hope to make records in this way of many of the gardens of the Old World.

Address: (business) 121 Beverly St., Boston, Mass.; (home) 122 Atlantic Ave., Marblehead, Mass.

IN 1900 my health gave out and I retired from all active business. In 1902 I entered a large manufacturing corporation, where I was urged and persuaded to assume a position and duties I did not wish. Since 1902 I have been steadily at work with the same corporation and its successor. I have several times refused chances for political office because I am not the kind to shine successfully before the public eye, and prefer to go along quietly in the endeavor to do my part in this world so far as I am able. I am not clever and never will be, and I know it; I am simply a plodder.

My present business positions are clerk and assistant treasurer of American Glue Company, treasurer of Pennsylvania Glue Company, clerk and treasurer of Cape Ann Isinglass Company, clerk and treasurer of Crystal Gelatine Company, clerk and treasurer of N. Ward Company, clerk of John C. Dow Company, treasurer of the Devereaux Corporation. I am also, at present, Chairman of the Governing Board of the United States Power Squadrons.

† Henry Asa Van LANDINGHAM

Born in Nozubel County, Miss., Oct. 10, 1872.

Parents: Henry Jackson, Mary Frances (Hearn) Van LANDINGHAM.

School: West Point High School, Miss.

Years in College: 1896-97.

Degrees: A.B.; A.M. 1898; A.B. 1893 (Mississippi College).

Unmarried.

Died: May 15, 1914, at Saranac, N. Y.

HENRY ASA VAN LANDINGHAM, the son of Henry Jackson and Mary Frances (Hearn) Van LANDINGHAM, was born at Mashulaville, Mississippi, October 10, 1872. He was prepared for college at the West Point (Miss.) Academy. In the little town of West Point his boyhood was spent. In 1889 he entered Mississippi College, from which he received his A.B. in 1893. He taught one year at the Douglasville (Ga.) High School and two years in the Georgetown (Ky.) Academy. In the fall of 1896 he entered Harvard University, taking his A.B. there in 1897 and his A.M. the following year. The same year he was appointed Master of English and Classics in the well-known Thacher School of California, and here he remained until 1904, when he became Acting Professor of English in Georgetown College, Ky. From 1905 to 1908 he was Professor of English in Mercer University, Ga. In 1908 he was made Associate Professor of English in Richmond College, Va., and in 1912 Professor of English in that institution. Meanwhile he spent a year (1910-11) as Fellow in Harvard University engaged in special work in dramatics, resuming his professorship at Richmond College the following year. He died at Saranac, N. Y., May 15, 1914, and was buried at West Point, Miss.

Mr. Van LANDINGHAM was an uncommonly successful teacher, a keen literary critic, and a delightful interpreter of literature.

The gentleness of his nature, his sympathy, his wide culture, and his thorough training enabled him to bring out the subtler qualities of the great classics. He had, moreover, a fine sense for form. He was particularly gifted as a teacher of English composition. Himself a writer of charm, he had a sure feeling for the right word. He spent most of his energy in teaching others how to write, though he found time to contribute now and then some sketch or bit of criticism to periodicals, and he delivered a few literary addresses. There was something knightly about Van Landingham which made those who knew him feel that he had lived in thought with the rare spirits of his favorite poets. To those who knew him well he was a delightful companion, albeit to strangers he seemed perhaps somewhat shy and cold. As his colleague for six years, I came to regard him as a lovable and diligent soul, whose untimely taking off has left society and academic hall the poorer.

J. C. Metcalf (A.M. Harvard, '05),
Dean and Professor of English,
Richmond College, Va.

MY efforts to lift the state of California to a higher intellectual plane and the return to my native soil after these had miscarried, were recorded in a former report. Upon reaching Colorado again, I at once began a violent flirtation with the Goddess of Fortune, and also with a very charming young lady. I captured the young lady, and am still in pursuit of the other goddess.

In 1902 I started to carve out my fortune as a team-work contractor. I had it only partly carved when an almost-forgotten civil service examination blossomed into an appointment in the custom house. With careful nursing my job here is gradually growing into a position. Beyond an occasional swing to a higher limb, there is little to disturb the serene monotony of existence. I have lately joined a branch of the Mothers' Congress which is composed entirely of men and am developing a strong maternal interest in school affairs.

My domestic relations are unchanged. I have the same number of wives and children as usual, namely, one of the former and two of the latter. Both boys have been wiser than their father for a long time. They will soon be ready for Harvard, where I hope they will be brought down to the paternal level.

I have recently burst out in a new place, the field of literature.

Modesty forbids me to extol the virtues of my book as they really deserve and my critics seem to feel the same way about it. When it is published, if ever, may it not be that the readers and the author will lift their hands in the silent prayer and vow "never again."

† Philip Keyes Walcott

Born at Concord, Mass., Dec. 11, 1877.

Parents: Charles Hosmer, Florence (Keyes) Walcott.

School: Concord High School, Concord, Mass.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Married: Anne Elizabeth Goedkoop, Aug. 17, 1911, New York, N. Y.

Died: Oct. 6, 1914, at New York, N. Y.

PHILIP KEYES WALCOTT was accidentally killed by a fall from his office window in New York on the morning of October 6, 1914. Walcott was born at Concord, Massachusetts, on December 11, 1877. His father was Honorable Charles Hosmer Walcott, of the class of 1870. His grandfather was Judge John Shepard Keyes, of the class of 1841, in whose home he was brought up, his mother having died soon after his birth. He was prepared at the Concord High School for Harvard College, which he entered in the fall of 1893. He was the youngest man in the class of 1897. He graduated cum laude, then studied two years at the Harvard Law School, after which he went to New York, where he entered the office of Peckham, Warner and Strong. Having taken further studies at the New York University Law School, he passed the New York bar examinations in June, 1900. In May, 1904, he associated himself with the firm of Delafield and Longfellow, — now Hawkins, Delafield and Longfellow, — becoming a member of the firm in 1912. He was a recognized expert in the law of municipal corporations, and his opinions with reference to the legality of public loans were accepted with respect by the authorities of many eastern cities who appealed to him for advice and guidance. On August 7, 1911, he married Anne Elizabeth Goedkoop, who survives him. Walcott's professional life was centered in New York, but his family associations with Concord and New England were strong. In 1904 he delivered the memorial address on the occasion of the 269th anniversary of Concord. He now lies at rest beside his parents in Sleepy Hollow.

The New York Sun, two days after the event, printed an editorial notice of his death, in the course of which the writer speaks of him as follows: — "Never was there a man whose joy in living, whose vigorous, sustained and intelligent appreciation of men and affairs was more unmistakable, more thoroughly impressed on all about him. . . . Not yet in middle life, Mr. Walcott had already earned an honorable position at the bar of this town. His interest in political and municipal affairs was constant, if deliberately inconspicuous. He was already a useful citizen, a young man of real promise."

Walcott was a man of strong individuality and of unusual gifts. He had great intellectual capacity, a retentive memory, a quick wit, and high spirits which made him an enlivening and stimulating companion. But the outward man did not quickly reveal the deeper and truer self which lay beneath. The gaiety and exuberance were often a mask for the sensitive spirit, or served to cover from too curious eyes the high ideals of honor by which he ever guided his life. The loss of his keen mind, striking personality, joyous spirit and affectionate loyalty makes life poorer for those to whom he gave his friendship.

This notice of the death of Philip Keyes Walcott is sent to his friends by four of his classmates, in token of their affection for him: James Duncan Phillips, Robert D. Jenks, James E. Gregg, Henry Wilder Foote.

SINCE November 1, 1911, I have been the editor of The Boston Evening Record. The ownership of the paper changed in November, or thereabouts, 1914, but I have clung like a leech! All's well.

The only important change in my circumstances in the last five years is the arrival of what is undoubtedly the most remarkable baby in the class, Margery Rose, now almost old enough to appreciate Class Day, being past two years by the 1917 event.

She has her eye on Radcliffe. My waist line remains constant, if not more so, my health hopeful, and my political convictions intelligently muddled.

In January, 1902, I changed my headquarters to New York and in 1904 was admitted to the firm. In 1909 the name of the firm was changed to William Whitman & Company.

During the early part of 1913 I was forced to give up active work on account of ill health, and purchased a farm in Simsbury, Conn. In November of the same year, William Whitman & Company was incorporated under the name of William Whitman Company, Inc., of which I became a director.

In December, 1914, I returned to New York and again took up my active duties with the Company. In January, 1916, I moved my headquarters to the home office in Boston, and am at present vice-president and a director of the company, also a director of The National Union Bank.

DID not reply. Data and story taken from previous report. He served in the Spanish War as Second Lieutenant in Company C, Sixth Missouri Volunteer Infantry, and as Provost Marshal (Chief of Police) at Jacksonville and Pablo Beach, Fla. Five years ago he wrote: "At the close of service in Cuba I was tossed back again in the seas of journalism, and have been unable to escape since. I lost my fortune trying to make a Black Hills weekly into a metropolitan power. As telegraph editor of the Los Angeles Times I have proved my immunity from dynamite, so feel pretty sure of living for the Class Reunion. Nightly I gather news from all quarters of the globe and from Cambridge and New Haven. I prove my loyalty to Harvard by printing all the scandals about Yale men. All my spare time is devoted to writing to eastern editors for money." Latest reports are that he is with the Boston American.

RICHARD WHORISKEY

Born at Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 2, 1874.

Parents: Richard, Anne Carroll Whoriskey.

School: Cambridge Latin School.

Years in College: 1893-97.

Degree: A.B.

Unmarried.

Occupation: Professor of modern languages.

Address: New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H.

THE summer of 1912 I attended the convention of the Deutsch-Amerikanischer Lehrbund at Berlin. We were officially entertained by twenty of the largest cities in Germany and had a wonderful time. The party was received by the Kaiserin in the gardens of the summer palace at Potsdam. The remarkable singing of the male choruses in the different cities made a lasting impression on me. After the convention I visited one of my colleagues at his home in Denmark.

In 1914 I was in Frankfort, when the war broke out. I left for Hanover at once and became an assistant in the American Consulate for a while. I suffered no hardship, for several people offered me financial help, from the barber who wanted to give me credit to the amount of fifteen cents, the price of a haircut, to a stranger from Kentucky who wanted to lend me one hundred dollars. Fifteen dollars in my inside pocket and a good old scout from Kalamazoo, Michigan, who worked with me in the Consulate and stood by with a fat purse, solved my problem nicely.

In 1912-13 and 1913-14 I was president of the New Hampshire Modern Language Association; in 1915 vice-president and in 1916 president of the New Hampshire Schoolmasters' Club.

At the college I am leading a rather strenuous life, for the extension lectures we are carrying on take me out of town once or twice a week. Other little responsibilities allotted to me are secretary of the administration committee, member of the athletic and the arts and science committee and chairman of the convocation committee. I am also alumnus adviser of Beta Kappa Chapter of Kappa Sigma.

One of the big things I have taken part in at the college was in connection with the first New Hampshire Day, November 21, 1916. Five hundred of the fellows worked from 8 A.M. until 4 P.M. putting in about a mile of tile drain on the athletic field and building five units of bleachers. At noon one hundred and fifty of the girls furnished and served the dinner to their hungry college mates. I was chairman of the general committee.

Address: (business) 607 East Pike St., Seattle, Wash.; (home) 434 35th Ave., Seattle, Wash.

I LEFT College in June 1895, and in January, 1896, I went to work for a wholesale hardware firm in Scranton, Pa. I remained with this company until March, 1902, and for a few weeks was connected with a hardware concern in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Early in July, 1902, I accepted a job with the American Tin and Terne Plate Co., a jobbing sheet metal house in Philadelphia, Pa. This company practically went out of business in November, 1903. At that time I began traveling for the Clauss Shear Company of Fremont, Ohio, and continued with them till December 1908. Then I traveled in the Central West for another concern. In the summer of 1909, I made the trip to the A. Y. P. Exposition at Seattle, and fell in love with the Puget Sound Country.

At the end of 1909, after traveling in the East, I pulled up my stakes and moved to Seattle. In July, 1910, I purchased a business and am permanently located here. I am more enthusiastic than ever about this country; every one ought to see it. So very few people have any real conception of Washington and Alaska.

Mrs. Wilbur and I have just moved into our new home. I very much want classmates to look me up when they are in Seattle.

IN March, 1901, I began work with the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington. The field investigations pursued have included a number of soil surveys, and a study of soil-crop relationships, or the adaptations of varied soils to the production of different crops. Field research work on orchard soils, and their adaptation to the different varieties of apples, has been for some time a special subject of investigation. The soil investigations were continued until 1914, when I entered the States Relation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as Soils Specialist in Agricultural Extension work.

EMBASSY OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
Madrid, May 26, 1917.

My dear Garrison:

I am enclosing herewith my biography for the Class Report, although I suppose it will arrive too late to find a place. It is not my fault, however, as I received the form only two days ago. It had been sent to Russia, forwarded to me here, and apparently, from the looks of the envelope, been opened and censored by nearly every Government in Europe. As being especially suspicious, they had torn off my biography, pasted on the third page, as it had appeared in the previous Report.

It is a disappointment to me not to be with you for our reunion and I had counted on being able to come, until the United States actually entered the war. Then of course there was no question of leaving posts at such a time, and I expect there will be many of the Class who will be kept away for similar reasons.

With kindest regards to you and to all classmates, and with best wishes for a successful Reunion,

Sincerely yours,
CHARLES S. WILSON.

As stated in the fourth Class Report, I was appointed Secretary of Embassy in Petrograd, December, 1911, where I arrived in March, 1912, remaining four years until March, 1916. During those four years, I was, in the absence of an Ambassador, Chargé d'Affaires ad interim, during half of this period. During my Chargé-ship the war broke out, and the Embassy took over the charge of German and Austro-Hungarian interests in Russia, amounting to about 400,000 civilians, and later about 1,000,000 prisoners of war. The office hours during that time averaged about eighteen hours per day.

The American Colony, being strongly pro-Ally, founded a hospital for wounded Russian soldiers, and of this hospital I was Chairman until my departure from Russia. The Hospital was of 50 beds, all nursing and work connected with it being performed by American volunteers of the colony, and it was shown as the model small military hospital in Russia.

In January, 1915, I visited the eastern war front, staying in Warsaw, which was daily bombarded by aeroplanes. This was after the second repulse of the Germans, but they were only 30 miles away. I went out to the German lines as far as was safe for a non-combatant, and visited many of the Polish towns — or rather heaps of ruins — which the Germans had totally destroyed in their retreat. I also visited the great military hospitals, one of 2000 beds, with a steady stream of wounded arriving from the front.

In January, 1916, I was appointed Secretary of Embassy at Madrid, and reached that post in March, 1916, traveling via southern Russia, Roumania, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, and France, — 16 days from Petrograd to Madrid, traveling as fast as war conditions allowed.

In the summer of 1916, I spent two months in the United States, my first visit in six years. In October, 1916, I was promoted to the grade of Counselor of Embassy.

Died Jan. 1914, at San Rafael, Cal.

FRANK WINCHESTER, son of Ezra Hutchings and Abbie Josephine (Odiorne) Winchester, was born at Portsmouth, N. H., May 28, 1873. He attended the Carleton School at Bradford, Mass., and completed his college preparation at Phillips Academy, Exeter, N. H. He was at Harvard during the years 1893-1896, but did not complete his course for a degree. In September, 1898, he married Elizabeth Hiller Foster of Portsmouth, N. H., the daughter of Joseph Hiller and Adelaide (Morgan) Foster. They settled in San Francisco, where Winchester engaged in the leather business with his father.

The San Francisco earthquake so affected the conditions of their business that Winchester moved to San Rafael, where he was enabled to enjoy the pleasures of country life and a charming home within reasonable distance from his town activities.

In January, 1914, while riding horseback in company with his daughter Margaret, his horse fell, and Winchester was so badly injured that he lived only a few hours.

He is survived by his widow and one of his daughters.

Although Winchester became an enthusiastic Californian, he never lost his interest and affection for his early friends, keeping actively in touch with them, and making them welcome to his Western home. He was a man of generous and loyal nature, whose untimely death is sincerely mourned.
